MOTHER! There is no word so full of meaning and about which such tender and holy recollections cluster as that of "Mother"—she who watched over our helpless infancy and guided our first tottering step. Yet the life of every Expectant Mother is beset with danger and all effort should be made to avoid it, so assists nature in the change-taking place that the Expectant Mother is enabled to look forward without dread, suffering or gloomy forebodings, to the hour when she experiences the joy of Motherhood. It is an insurance policy for the lives of both Mother and Child, and she is found stronger after than before confinement—in short, it "makes Childbirth natural and easy," as so many have said. Don't be persuaded to use anything but

MOTHER'S FRIEND

"My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her other two children than she did in delivering her last, having previously used four bottles of 'Mother's Friend.' It is a blessing to any mother expecting to become a MOTHER," says a customer. HENDERSON DALE, Carmi, Illinois.

HOW CUSTER FELL.

"Buffalo Bill" Tells the Story Anew in His Recent Book.

Few events in our history have so touched the hearts of the American people as the destruction of General Custer and his men in their battle with Sioux and Cheyennes at the Little Big Horn in the summer of 1876.

Colonel William F. Cody, ("Buffalo Bill") in his new book, "The Great Salt Lake Trail," tells the story anew. Custer's forces were divided into three parts, one led by himself, the others by Majors Reno and Benteen. The two latter were first to be engaged with the enemy, and were repulsed before reaching the Indian encampment. Custer, with his division, dashed on, and sent back to Reno and Benteen the order: "Big village; be quick; send on the packs;" Reno and Benteen were not, or thought were not (Cody severely blames them), in a position to send relief, and Custer was left unsupported.

"Down from the hillside, up through the valleys, that dreadful torrent of Indian cruelty and massacre poured around the little squad, to swallow it up with one grand swoop of fire. But Custer was there at the head, like Spartacus fighting the legions about him, tall, graceful, brave as a lion at bay, and with thunderbolts in his hands. His brave followers formed a hollow square, and met the rush and roar and fury of the demons. Bravely they breasted that battle shock, bravely stood up and faced the leaden hail, nor quailed, when looking into the blazing muzzles of five thousand deadly rifles.

"Brushing away the powder grime that had settled on his face, Custer looked over the boiling sea of fury around him, peering through the smoke for some sign of Reno and Benteen, but seeing none. Still thinking of the aid which must soon come, with cheering words to his men he renewed the battle, fighting still like a Hercules, and piling heaps of victims under his very feet.

"The fight continued with unabated fury until late in the afternoon; men had sunk down beside their gallant leader until there was but a handful left—only a dozen, bleeding from many wounds, and but carbines in their stiffening hands. The day is almost done, when look! Heaven now defend him! The charm of his life is broken for Custer has fallen; a bullet cleaves a pathway through his side, and as he falters another strikes his noble breast. Like a strong oak stricken by the lightning's bolt shivering the mighty trunk, and bending its withering branches down close to the earth, so fell Custer; but like the reacting branches, he rises partly up again, and striking out like a fatally wounded giant, he lays three more Indians dead and breaks his mighty sword on the musket of a fourth; then with useless blade and empty pistol falls back, the victim of a dozen wounds.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—JOSH. EDGAR, Germantown, Cal. For sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

The Army Cat.

When Major-General Merritt sailed from San Francisco he asked the government authorities for three cats to take to Manila. Probably the trio of American felines are now teaching Yankee habits to their misguided fellows of the island, for it was Major-General Merritt's intention to send them ashore when he landed. The cats came from the commissary depot on Jessie street, San Francisco, and their progenitor may be seen there any day busied among the barrels and boxes or dozing lazily in some snug corner. He has grown old and fat in the service of Uncle Sam, and is highly esteemed by all who know of his long years of faithful attention to duty.

It is not generally known that the government spends several thousands of dollars annually for the maintenance of cats, but the accounts of the United States depot commissaries prove it. In every storehouse there are from one to five of the animals, and their rations are provided as carefully and regularly as those of any of the galest soldiers.

They are not fed on scrap, nor are their individual tastes disregarded, as use those of the enlisted men, but they are all allotted so many pounds of choice beef or any other delicacy their palates may desire. Of course they may have as much game as they may wish, and the storehouses seldom fail to furnish an unlimited supply of rats and mice. That the cats save many times their cost of support is well known, as such supplies as crackers, cheese, bacon, flour and meal are much sought after by the rodents.

All men of war carry cats. Their usefulness is never more apparent than on shipboard. The writer was crossing from Antwerp to New York on the steamship Southwark, when he was awakened by the sudden stopping of the ship, an occurrence which happening in mid-ocean, generally means something serious. The passengers rushed on deck, half clad, and were disgusted to learn that a rat having crawled into the cylinder had caused the halt. Such an accident on man-of-war in time of action might be fearfully paid for, and an active cat is its only preventive.

"The Colonel" has a host of admirers, and in his many years in the army he has become the pet of many officers and clerks and the progenitor of many other cats, whose rating qualities have won them distinction.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Buena Vista Patriot offers Bibles as premiums to induce delinquents to pay up but we don't suppose that it is making much headway, for persons who do not pay for their country paper have no use for a Bible.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured, of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

Two Guns.

Not a few of the returning campaigners at Camp Wikoff were burdened by the weight of two equipments, although they had scarce strength enough to carry one. Why some of them were so laden is indicated by a case related by the New York Commercial Advertiser.

A man of the Thirty-third Michigan was loaded down with bags, gage, and over his shoulder he carried two guns, tied together with twine. He was smoking a cigar, and kept up a constant stream of bantering remarks in a reckless way.

"There's our train, boys," he said, as his company crossed the platform and clambered down the sandy slope toward the sliding. "Don't you see the sign? 'Improved Stable Cars.' Well, thank goodness we're going the other way this time."

When the men halted beside the cars, a bystander said affably to this man, "You've got more than your share of baggage."

"I don't know about that," answered the Michigan soldier, soberly.

"Where did you get the extra gun?"

"It's a dead man's gun. It belonged to a man who was killed down in Cuba."

"And you are taking it home, are you?"

"Yes, I'm taking it to his folks."

The stranger seemed inclined to get more of the story, but the soldier turned his head well away, so that no one could see into his face.

"It belonged to my brother," he said.

Good Things to Know.

That milk which is turned or changed may be sweetened and rendered fit for use again by stirring in a little soda.

That salt will curdle new milk; hence, in preparing milk porridges, gravies, etc., the salt should be added until the dish is prepared.

That ripe tomatoes will remove ink and other stains from white cloth; also from the hands.

That a tablespoonful of turpentine boiled with white clothes will aid in the whitening process.

That boiled starch is much improved by the addition of a little sperm salt, or gum arabic dissolved.

That fresh meat, after beginning to sour, will sweeten if placed out of doors in the cool night.

That clear boiling water will remove tea stains and many fruit stains. Pour the water through the stain, and thus prevent it spreading over the fabric.—Good Housekeeping.

50,000 Troops in Cuba.

We see in daily papers of January 19th that Major-General Wood tells the senate Committee that fifty thousand of our soldiers should be stationed in Cuba. Add to these what will be needed in Porto Rico and the Philippines, and you have [as the result of this war] nearly a hundred thousand of our young men sent to these malarious tropical islands in time of peace.

If this should lead [as would be quite probable] to collision with any strong European power, it may cost us hundreds of thousands of lives and thousands of millions of dollars. GEO. T. ANGELL.

Blakely Observer: There is plenty of time for farmers to make good provision crops yet, despite the bad weather, if they don't get too much interested in the cotton acreage.

But What Shall we Do With The Philippines?

But what shall we do with the Philippines?

Do what we ought to have done long ago, order our soldiers and sailors to come home as fast as they can travel.

But shall we turn them over to Spain?

Spain never held a one-hundredth part of them, and she could not in her present condition hold that hundredth part forty-eight hours.

But other nations will take them? Well, let them—it would be a good riddance for us and probably as well for them.

We do not own richly one acre of the Philippines.

Spain's quitclaim deed is not worth the paper it is written on.

To sustain a great army and navy at enormous expense to conquer and hold these one thousand or more islands would be robbery in the beginning and probably murder before we got through—murder of our own soldiers and sailors and murder of the Filipinos, who want to be free.

That is precisely how the matter strikes us.

China's Poor.

A Chinaman can live upon five cents a day, yet there are more beggars in China than in any other country. They travel in great companies, men, women and children. The women suffer on this tramp, because their feet are bandaged. Crowds of young beggars follow carriages for miles, howling for gifts. Professionals often mislead their children so they may excite sympathy. These swarms of beggars are the result of there not being enough work for them all.

Orders issued by the war department Monday will muster out about 16,000 volunteer troops, including all such troops now in camp in the United States and the Third Georgia at Nuevitas. Two Hundred and Second New York at Guayama, and four batteries of the Maine artillery now at Havana. They will be mustered out at Savannah, Ga. This will reduce the army's strength to 110,000 men, of whom 30,000 are stationed in Cuba. All the volunteer troops in Porto Rico have been previously discharged and the only volunteers still in the service are either in the Philippines or in Cuba.

The Greenville News has been interviewing a prosperous young farmer of its county and reports, among other things: "One more thing you ought to tell farmers," he said as he was leaving. "I like whiskey, but I'm land hungry. I want more land. I figured out years ago that with very moderate drinking I'd drink an acre of land every year. So I quit. At the end of the year I tell myself I'm just an acre ahead at $25 an acre by not drinking. I find that when I put it to my neighbors that way it makes 'em think. You tell farmers to think about land every time they start to buy whiskey and calculate how much real estate they are drinking or giving away."

John Pendley, a convict in the Dekalb county chain gang, this week confessed to the killing of Policeman Tom Ponder in Atlanta more than a year ago in the whiskey house of L. Steinan. He implicates George Bankston in the murder, and many now believe the mystery is solved and Tom Ponder's brutal murder will soon be avenged. Pendley, however, is said to be crazy, and this confession may really amount to nothing. Tom Ponder was born and raised in Cherokee and his remains are buried at Hickory Flat in this county, and the aged parents, relatives and friends of the dead policeman will watch with much interest every movement looking to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of this popular man.—Cherokee Advance.

Mining Notes.

The deposit mine down at the Briar Patch, in Auraria district, worked by Miller and Norrell, is still paying handsome profits to the owners interested in it. Last week they worked gravel worth a pennyweight to the small pan. The Briar Patch property is among the best diggings in Lumpkin county. Thousands of pennyweights of the precious metal have been taken from her rich deposits and thousands more still remain undiscovered.

Since the weather has somewhat moderated Mr. Walker has been engaged in getting in the machinery for his new mill at the Crescent, which is being put in position as rapidly as possible and the day is not far distant when it will be running, producing music which is so delightful to all mining men.

Bill Bryson, of Martin's Ford District, was in town last Saturday exhibiting some of the richest gold ore that we have had the pleasure of seeing in a long time, being discovered by this old experienced miner while prospecting recently. The two small rock came off of one which was about the size of a man's hand, producing ten pennyweights after being beaten in a mortar. Those shown us were perfectly speckled with gold, really looking to us that near one-fourth were pure gold.

Death of Mrs. John A. Parker.

The wife of Capt. John A. Parker died in Atlanta Feb. 22nd, aged 62 years, and by her special request was brought back to her former home, Dahlonega, where the latter part of her life had been spent, and buried by the side of her three children and mother on Friday, the 24th ult., in Mount home Cemetery. This brought a sadness over us as we looked upon one of our former prosperous family of our town, and especially upon the once mainly form of Capt. John A. Parker, as he came bent over with the weight of years to deposit his happiness and sorrows through life. Thus we share with them in the loss of wife and mother a measure of that sorrow in common which death brings to a home, and command them to God "that is too wide to err and too good to be unkind," and when, like David of old, they fall on sleep, may husband and wife, and children mother, where death is an eternal stranger and tears are all wiped from our eyes and grave yards are unknown. W. H. McAFEE.

Slop Coughing

Every cough makes your throat more raw and irritable. Every cough congests the lining membrane of your lungs. Cessate your throat and lungs in this way. Put the parts at rest and give them a chance to heal. You will need some help to do this, and you will find it in

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

From the first dose the quiet and rest begin; the tickling in the throat ceases; the spasm weakens; the cough disappears. Do not wait for pneumonia and consumption but cut short your cold without delay.

Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral should be over the lungs of every person troubled with a cough.

Write to the Doctor.

Send your name and address to the person who has the medicine, and you will receive a prompt reply without cost. Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

The small pox are said to be spreading in Texas.

It is said that the Georgia wheat crop has been damaged over $1,000,000.

All of the volunteer soldiers now in service are ordered to be mustered out.

A bill has been introduced in the Illinois legislature to pay Chicago alderman a salary of $5,000 a year each.

Many of the orange trees in Florida were killed by the recent blizzard and the growers are cutting them down.

Immense loss has recently been in Manila by fires supposed to have been started by the insurgents. Between 600 and 700 residences were destroyed.

Bro. Craig, of the Eagle, is up from his recent spell of sickness and able to use his pen again in a very able and effective manner, we are glad to say.

Mascogee, in the Indian Nation, had a half million dollar fire on the 23rd. Five years ago a fire started in the same spot—a shanty—and swept the place almost away.

At a meeting of the National Educational Association at Columbus, O., last week, G. R. Glenn, superintendent of Georgia public schools, was elected first vice president.

Eight blind tiger men of Gainesville were found guilty last week. Their fines amounted to $90. The cases were worked up by a man named F. W. Monroe, who was employed by the city council.

The Louisville, Ky., mills and shops have been compelled to shut down on account of about 500 girls having sore arms caused from vaccination. Just about as well suffer with the small pox as sore arms.

Last week the Mayor of Waycross fined two parties, who had been dealing in liquor, $100 each and cost, besides instructing the clerk to issue a fi fa against each for $30,000. Morning drams in that city come pretty high.

It is claimed that two old friends at Ivy Log Union, county, fought with pistols at ten paces the other day, during which both were dangerously wounded. They are Isaac Hanson and Joe Price. A pretty girl is the cause of the difficulty.

The beef investigation at Washington is still going on, and it has come to light that after the cans which bore the label of 1895, were soaked in water, an original label was discovered showing that the beef was put up in 1883. In 1865 such meat would have been considered fresh by the Confederate boys.

Anderson Giddens, a member of the Bohannon gang at Dalton, was pardoned June 21, 1898 but the papers were not sent to the authorities until last week when Gov. Candler's attention was called to the matter. It seems to be a very careless manner of doing business on the part of some one. Who it is we do not know.

A revival in Chattahoochee recently by Sam Jones and Stuart cost that city $2,02.34; expenses, $271.49. Amount paid to Jones for seventeen days preaching, $363.25; amount paid Stuart for the same time $481.80. The balance was distributed among the singers and musicians. This is enough to make the Lord blush with shame at ministers charging so much to show sinners the most direct route to heaven.

France has paid its last pension to the soldiers of Napoleon 1. In 1869 a law was passed granting $50 a year to all noncommissioned officers and privates who had served ten years in the armies of the first republic or of the first empire and had received a wound. For the first year the payments amounted to $600,000; last year the sum was $50, and the last recipient is now dead at the age of one hundred and five years.

Are You Easily Tired?

Just remember that all your strength must come from your food. Did you ever think of that? Perhaps your muscles need more strength, or your nerves; or perhaps your stomach is weak and cannot digest what you eat. If you need more strength than this of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. The oil is the most easily changed of all foods into strength, and the hypophosphites are the best tonic for the nervous system. SCOTT'S EMULSION is the easiest and quickest cure for weak throats, for coughs of every kind, and for all cases of debility, nervousness, and loss of flesh.

The contractor has the new school house covered except the tower, who will be able hereafter to work rain or shine. Mr. Edwards has certainly had a bad time for work most over since he commenced the building.

Dr. Howard is 75 years old and never had to begin to wear spectacles until about two years ago. His eye sight has been failing so rapidly of late that he has been compelled to quit reading, and if it continues to fail him like it has in the past twelve months in a few more years this good old man, if living, will be totally blind. But we trust that a change will take place. Dr. Howard, for a number of years did most of the practice in this county. He went to the call of the rich and the poor, rain or shine, day or night, hot or cold, whether they could pay him or not and did what he could for their relief, and if he ever sued a person for a doctor bill we never heard of it, although we expect there are hundreds of dollars due him for his services in this county today. The poor people will greatly miss Dr. Howard; they have already done so on account of his failing health and declining years.

An Ordinance.
To raise supplies for the support of the town of Dahlonega, Ga., for the year 1899. Be it ordained by the Mayor and the Council of the town of Dahlonega, That the following sums and amounts are hereby levied and ordered to be collected in manner and form as hereinafter described for the support of the town, and to pay the interest on the school bonds of said town, and for any such bond or bonds as may fall due in the year 1899.
1. That is to say the sum of forty cents on each and every one hundred dollars of the assessed value of all the real and personal property in said town.
2. Also the sum of three dollars on each and every male inhabitant of said town in lieu of the laws of this state, to perform road work, which shall be in lieu of the actual performance of said labor by persons so liable under the control and management of the marshal of said town and the street committee.
3. Also the sum of fifty cents for each and every male dog, and the sum of two dollars for every female dog owned or kept by any person living within the corporate limits of the town. And the owners of said dogs are required to return and recede said tax to the marshal of the town before the first day of March next, otherwise the ordinance of said town respecting dogs will be enforced.
4. It is further ordained, That the ordinance heretofore in force respecting the license on shows, exhibitions, are hereby continued of force.
5. The taxes above listed on real and personal property, and also and besides, one-half of one cent of the value of the town and the remaining half on or before the first day of November next.
6. It is further ordained, That the taxes on real and personal property shall be paid to and collected by the treasurer of said town, and the corporation tax and all tax on dogs and shows and exhibitions, shall be paid and collected by the marshal of said town, and all taxes on the same shall be paid to the treasurer for the same.
Done and ratified at a meeting of the town council held on the 24th day of Feb., 1899. W. P. PRICK, Mayor.

Solicitor Charters is now attending Rabun Superior Court.

A load of cabbage from across the Blue Ridge realized the producer $2.30 per hundred in Dahlonega last Friday.

Dahlonega is on rising ground. Three more stores have been added to her business this year, making twelve now in all.

B. R. Meaders, his wife and their son Frank, returned from Swainsboro Wednesday after an absence of several weeks.

If you want to keep posted on all home matters send for the Nugget. It will give it to you in plain language without any whitewashing so that all may know and understand.

A number of our merchants ordered their Irish potato seed week before the blizzard, but fortunately they were delayed in some manner, else they would have been frozen and all lost.

James Ray, residing a few miles out in the country, has recently lost two children, and his son who accidentally shot himself some time ago, has taken sick and is not expected to live. Much trouble is being heaped upon this poor man.

At Antioch Church, in Lumpkin county recently, two ministers, Bros. West and Roper, got up during the same meeting, which was at night, and selected and preached two different sermons, so we understand, and had a kind of discussion or debate.

We are pleased to learn that our friend Wm. Scott is improving after a severe spell of sickness, who we trust will soon be able to come to town many more times before he is called away and see his host of friends. Bill Scott is a good citizen, who would be greatly missed if he was gone.

Old Uncle Bill Nunn, who has been working on the school house when the weather would admit, subscribed and paid for the Nugget and left for his home in Atlanta last Friday. Uncle Bill used to walk the streets of Dahlonega years ago and tells many interesting things that occurred in ancient days.

At a recent wedding in Chestnut district, in this country, the tail of every horse rode there by a visitor was cut off by some unknown party or parties. Even a lady who dressed up and borrowed a horse and went from Yahoola district, lost her horses tail—this is certainly a new way of treating guests on such an occasion.

A letter received last week by a kinsman of our old friend J. P. Parker, who went from Dahlonega some years ago to the Indian Territory to better his financial condition, states that he is almost blind. Misfortune seems to have met him on almost every hand, the news of which his many friends here in his native country will regret to learn.

Frank Moose thoroughly recovered from the effects of the grip on Thursday at noon of last week, which caused him to feel happy and want to rejoice. So by nine o'clock that night he had a musician, a straw beater and a large number of friends on hand and the dancing commenced which continued until 1 o'clock. Frank danced so that he will never have the second attack, neither will any of those who participated.

Roy D. M. Edwards, pastor of the Methodist Church, is the most industrious preacher we ever had here. He does not expect the people to wait on him simply because he is a preacher, but does his own work. He chops his wood, builds his own fire, milks the cow, and when his wife is gone does his own cooking, and the other day after suffering with the toothache twenty-four hours sent for the dentist and got the necessary "grabs" and pulled his own tooth.

Cotton brought six cents in Dahlonega Tuesday.

Two bars of laundry soap for 5 cents at E. S. Copelands.

Three packages of Victor Oats for 25 cents at Copelands.

Dr. John H. Vickers, of Athens is now in charge of Cartledge's drug store.

J. E. McGee went over to Union county Tuesday to see his father who is very sick.

The oldest son of Sol. Walden, called "Biddy," died in Yahoola district last Saturday.

State School Commissioner Glenn is sending out checks for the first salaries of school teachers.

Barney Meaders, of Land, Hall county, was on a visit to relatives in Dahlonega last week.

The contractor has already commenced work on W. P. Price, Jr., residence near on the M. E. Church.

Ladies, you can find French Gloss shoe polish, Talcum Powders, Toilet soaps, &c., at Copelands.

We regret to learn that W. R. Crissom is very sick with grip. He is old and feeble but we trust that he will recover.

T. M. Bryant, of Atlanta, is going to move to Dahlonega next week for the purpose of entering his three children in the N. G. A. College.

F. D. Boatfield, who has been sick for some time, seems to be no better, or that is no change in his condition. Some days he is better while others he is worse.

Congressmen are now sending out seeds, but if they are like those sent out heretofore, they are no account and our farmers and gardeners should not depend on them if they like vegetables.

You can get the best flour at E. S. Copelands. Also salt fish, barrel pickles, pure apple vinegar, flavoring extracts, tea, corn starch, bluing, blacking, matches, ink, lamp chimneys, pepper, spice, ginger, nutmeg, or any thing else kept in a first class grocery store.

Sheriff Davis and posse made a raid for Tom Duckett and the other defendants who were mentioned in last week's Nugget as having been troubling a Miss Butler, up in the upper portion of the county a few nights ago, who arrested Wofford Porter for Tom Duckett. Later on the defendants all came up and went before Squire Spencer for trial, but the prosecutor failed to appear and were all discharged.

Christopher Wofford, of Nimbalew district, says that while he was burning some broom, some the other day the fire caught his crib and destroyed about 200 bushels of corn—60 of it being sound. While in town Saturday relating his loss our citizens made him up about five dollars. Since then we have been told by a person who is a position to know that if he lost any it was not more than twenty bushels. Admitting that what he told is true it is poor management for a farmer to crib 140 bushels of rotten corn. We make mention of this matter to show how our people are sometimes deceived.

Last Tuesday a petition containing 40 names was sent from Martin's Ford district asking ordinary Tate to order the stock law to go into effect in that district on the first day of April, which he did. Whether it is law or not we cannot say, but will state that we have thoroughly read the stock law sections referred to every decision of the Supreme Court concerning the stock law, and can find nothing authorizing him to fix the time for it to go into effect. The law provides for him to do everything else—to bring it about and declare the election, and right here his duties and authority seem to cease. The law seems to fix the time itself, being within six months from the election. It would be a good time now for the liners to contribute a few dollars to some attorney so as to find out what is the law on this subject.

You will find onions at Hall Mide Co.

Remember that we keep notes, deeds, and most all other blanks.

We regret to learn that Pink Turner, of Nimbalew, is dangerously ill.

The two men charged with larceny are the only inmates of the jail now.

Miss Emma Marshall, nee Miss Emma Webb, is up on a visit from Atlanta.

Our bird hunters should remember that the hunting season ends on the 15th inst.

Three hoop cedar buckets at Copelands 25 cents. Also good buckets for 15 cents.

A room will be fitted up on the first floor of the court house for the post office, so reported.

It is said that a cart load of liquor was sold out on the public square one night last week.

G. H. McGuire is receiving his family groceries which will be sold as cheap as the cheapest for either barter or cash.

While eggs are selling at forty cents per dozen in Pittsburgh, some grumble at the price of ten cents in Dahlonega.

The papers report that Lieut. Fred Prices regiment is ordered to Manila, but the Lieutenant writes that no such order has been given.

The Gold Miners' Association meets in Atlanta to-morrow. H. D. Jaquish a former citizen of Lumpkin county, is its president.

John Ash, son of Rev. R. M. Ash, died Saturday night in Chestnut district, leaving a wife, one child and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

A number of our citizens have signed a petition asking that John Beck, an old Confederate soldier, be given some assistance from the county treasury. Under the law a Confederate soldier cannot be sent to the paupers home.

Samuel Jones, one of Lumpkin's most prosperous farmers, came in one day last week and had the Negro sent to his son, William, who is soldiering in Cuba. His son writes that it is a very hot, sickly country, who no doubt wishes often that he was back here at his old home once more.

Mr. Henley, the business manager and book keeper at Hall Mide Co's store, can use a pick handle as well as the pen when it becomes necessary. Upon going in the store Saturday night we found that he had picked up a pick handle and cleared the store of a drunken negro who was cursing.

Prof. J. S. Stewart, president of the N. G. A. College, has returned from Columbus, Ohio, where he went to attend the National Educational Association which convened in that city last week. It was largely attended, 1,500 of the ablest educators from different parts of the United States were on hand making it one of the most interesting meetings of the kind ever held. It was certainly a great gathering, one of which will be of vast interest to every institution of learning which these teachers represented. These 1,500 men of brains met and exchanged ideas that will be of much importance to each and every one in attendance which will cause a bright educational light to blaze up in all the colleges upon their return. The Prof. was the only delegate on the regular program from the South, and what pleases us most he was from Dahlonega and represented one of the best institutions in Georgia. Prof. Stewart is the most active president our college ever had, always wide awake on educational matters, ready to go at any time, either far or near, when he thinks that he can say or hear something which will benefit his college. The professor engaged in an interesting discussion the second day of the meeting and said many important things which opened the eyes of our northern friends, meeting with their approval.

Judge Tate is haying the jail whitewashed nicely.

Mrs. James Malory Porter went before Squire Spencer the other day, so we understand, and swore out three warrants, one for H. B. Swain, one for his wife and the other for his eldest daughter, charging them with assault with intent to murder. No trial yet.

Joe Natta Wilkins, of Yahoola district, was bought over by Squire Worley last week and required to give a bond of $50 for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior Court, on a warrant sworn out by W. S. Hall, charging him with cheating and swindling. The sum in dispute was only 85 cents.

It is said that Geo. Adams, of Chestnut district, and his wife have separated, caused by the husband taking on too much mountain dew. It is said that he took a chair to his wife and eldest daughter, striking the girl with it and later on picked up the baby, gave it a shaking and pitched it out into the yard into the snow, dangerously injuring the little one. If this is true the Judge will likely pass upon it later on.

Smith Harris had a misunderstanding with Will Stephens, col. Saturday night in front of Hall Mide Co's store which resulted in Smith striking Will in the forehead. Seeing that the negro was too big and strong for him to knock down he thought of "he that fights and runs away will live to fight another day," which ended the racket. Will was fined $3 and cost but his antagonist was let go without any action on the part of the Mayor.

W. H. Cook has sold his farm on Cape Creek to G. McGuire, who will leave for the Rocky Mountains some time between now and May for the purpose of making it his future home. Bill is a good citizen and his many friends here regret to see him leave. Doubtless it will be the last time they will ever get to see him as he is growing old and will not likely return to this country any more. We wish him and his family success wherever they go.

Mrs. Mike Sain was tried one day last week in Hightower district and found to be a fit subject by the jury for the lunatic asylum. One of her kinsman, who was in town the other day, was very much displeased with the proceedings. He said nothing was the matter with the woman except bad treatment. He also stated that the names of two who composed the jury were not in the jury-box, and could not see where persons who are not competent to try murder and other cases should be picked up and used in a trial of this kind.

The stock law election came off in Martin's Ford district last Tuesday, resulting in no fence carrying by 12 majority. After the recent election in the Dahlonega district, which went for fence, a bell serenade was had. But as it was differently Tuesday over there we do not know what kind of appropriate rejoicing the winners can engage in unless it is to wait until it goes into effect and stretch every poor man's cow hide in the district on poles or rails and march to some tan yard.

It is now certain that Dahlonega will have a telephone line to Gainesville. Prof. Stewart has been very active in the manner since taking hold of it. When not engaged in college duties he was mixing and mingling with our citizens talking telephone, which had a good effect. The shares are ten dollars each, amounting to one thousand dollars all of which have been anxiously taken. A meeting will be held this afternoon for the purpose of organizing and preparing for work at once, expecting to have it completed in less than sixty days. This will fill a long felt want in our community and will be of great convenience and benefit to our town. After the line is completed to Dahlonega Col. H. P. Farrow, of Gainesville, will extend it to Porter Springs.

Last Sunday was certainly a very rainy and disagreeable day.

Capt. Ingersoll paid Toledo, O., a flying visit last week. He left Friday and will return this week.

Merchant J. E. McGee, who recently purchased a dwelling on Pleasant Hill, has carpenters at work enlarging it.

M. G. Head, the owner of the Burnside, closed up his carpenters work on the building last week and is now having the painters to put on the finishing touch.

Mary Stephens, col., commenced suit this week against her husband Harve, asking for a divorce on grounds of him beating her. Ben married 21 years and both belong to the same church.

All the merchants who recently commenced advertising in the Nugget have already found out that it pays. If any of you who have been patronizing us will say that your business has not increased since trying it, will come up and say that it hasn't, we will refund your money at once.

James Edmonson was arrested a few miles above Dahlonega last Wednesday night by sheriff Davis and Marshal Worley on a warrant sworn out before Squire W. J. Worley by W. J. Burt charging him with cheating and swindling, originating from the sale of a suit of clothes and a dress by Burt. He gave back the things and the case was compromised by prosecutor paying the cost, being something over $5.

W. B. Woodward, the junior editor of the Signal, wrote an article last week which was a little disreputable of Goodman Beck and his family, causing a slight collision between the two last Saturday. They had a fight both at Ben Anderson and Jones' store. Rocks and weights were the most deadly weapons used but no serious damage resulted, however. Monday morning at the Mayor's court Woodward pleaded guilty and Goodman stood trial and was proven guilty. The latter was fined $25 and cost and the former $5 and cost. Woodward had a $3 derby destroyed during the fight which made his days-donings on this occasion amount to $10. Beck wore no derby and got out with just half this amount.

Dr. Whelchel went to Atlanta this week to be present during the operation which it was thought would have to be performed on the little son of Rev. D. M. Edwards, who has a stiff and crooked leg. Mr. Edwards has tried many leading physicians endeavoring to get his little son cured but up to the present has failed. The little fellow has been growing worse and worse for some time and his father decided that he would make one more trial to effect his relief by sending him to Atlanta for treatment, if possible. The Doctor returned Tuesday and says that no operation was performed, but that the patient is being treated in a different manner. His limb is badly drawn, which will be straightened and his hip joint, the doctors say, will have to be stiffened and then he will have to wear a brace to keep his hip in the wanted position for perhaps two years if not three. Mrs. Edwards is at present in Atlanta where she can daily visit her little son at the Grady Hospital, and Mr. Edwards is here at his work, but is daily advised as to results. The little sufferer will have to stay in the hospital from one to two months—no one can tell how long. Aside from all the headache, troubles, fears and hopes, this case has its financial phase. The physicians charge nothing for their attention. But Paula's board and nursing alone costs ten dollars a week, besides appliances, etc. A brace, such as he will be compelled to have, cost about $40. In other words, the first six weeks of this treatment will cost not less than $100. Many people have an idea that at hospitals every thing is free. But when we come to measure life and sufferings the cost seems a small matter.

The Ellijay mail carrier is getting very careless, frequently failing to come all the way to Dahlonega. The other day after coming a short distance this side of Jay he turned round and returned and if he had any mail, for Dahlonega it was carried back. The sub-contractor is a preacher who should see that our poor sinners in Dahlonega get our mail more promptly. Used to when the carrier dealt in blockade liquor he never failed to be here, when having orders, ahead of time. If this non arrival occurs on the days that our subscribers out there should receive their papers, we will awake the contractor up to a sense of his duty, unless there is some providential hindrance.

The letter, which we had reference to last week in regard to leaf tobacco dealers, written by Wm. King, Deputy Collector in charge, to Rev. D. M. Edwards of Dahlonega, reads as follows: "A merchant can buy leaf tobacco from farmers, and then pack in boxes, bbls, and hds, and sell it to manufacturers, and other leaf dealers—paying a tax of $6.00 per year if he sells less than 50,000 lbs., and $12.00 if over 50,000, and less than 100,000 lbs., and $24.00 if over 100,000 lbs. He cannot however, retail it to any one. The law does not permit it; nor can he put it up for sale in paper parcels, nor any other way that has not some permanence about it. If he should take the stem out of the leaf and twist it, he must first give bond and take out a stamp as a tobacco manufacturer."

John A. Parker, his two sons, Will and Joe and the latter's wife, visited our town last week being the first time they have been here for years, and would not have come this time had it not been to bring back the remains of the wife of the old gentleman who died in Atlanta, and bury her by the side of her mother who had gone on before several years ago. These clever people used to live in Dahlonega and have a host of friends throughout the county, many of whom met them and were glad to see them but sorry of the distress brought about by the death of one of the members of the family. Not many years ago John A. Parker was a citizen of Dahlonega and next to the biggest tax payer in our county—A. G. Wimpy being head. Now Mr. Wimpy is dead, and Mr. Parker is a citizen of Atlanta and all their property is now owned by different parties. A few years bring about many changes.

For some time we have thought that we would have to move our office from its present location in the Masonic building (and may have to yet) to some other house, as we were notified by Dr. Jones about two months ago, a few days after he was elected a member of the board of trustees of the building, that the Masonic fraternity had an idea of fitting up the office for a reading room. So we began to look about and get ready for the removal in case we had to go, but of course preferring to remain where we are at for it is no little trouble to move a printing office, occasionally asking some of the members when we would have to go. When lo and behold it leaked out that but few, if any of the members, except the Doctor, wished to go to the expense of fitting up a $200.00 reading room until money gets more plentiful, and that the move was more on account of his personal feelings towards the editor of this paper than the desire that he had for a reading room. This shows that the Doctor is a snake in the grass, reminding us of an Irish potato planted on the new of the moon which makes a great big vine with a little bit of a ball on the top of it—covering a good deal of ground, but of little profit. One of his excuses was that we might caveprod and catch on to some of the secrets of the lodge which meets on the second floor above us. There is but one secret or mystery that we would like to know about it, and that is how such a man as Dr. Jones ever got into a lodge of Masons?

Hymn to the Flag.

There's a flag here by my threshold where Alike more dear to me
 Than the blood that flows in my bosom
 The earnest of liberty.
 And dear are the stars it harbors in its sunny fold of blue
 As the hope of a further heaven that lights all our dim lives through.

The flag of our stately nation, not struggles of wrath and greed;
 It strikes with a holy vision, its spangles
 a dazzling creed;
 'Twas red with the blood of freedom, and white with the face of the foe
 And the stars that light its courses 'gainst
 Grant its glorious hue.

When the last true heart bleeds bloodless, when the face and the
 I'll press in turn to my bosom each daughter and other son.
 I'll then turn the flag from its bearings, as we lay us down to rest
 With the glory of home about us and its freedom locked in our breast.

—Julia Ward Howe.

The Beauties of Nature.

Here, my Amanda, let us seek contentment
 Here let us banish sorrow from our minds
 By contemplating the delightful view
 Which stretches all around us. And what joy
 To be reminded thus, though far from town,
 Of that which glories our native land,
 American trade! (Ours first at yonder wood;
 On every tree is tenderly inscribed
 In scarlet letters, "Use Niagara Soap!")
 Turns to those meadows, at no distant date
 But one true testament of grace
 Each bears a dozen boardings, striking, bright,
 Decided in complexion, variegated hues,
 Telling the reader that Ecocolor Soap
 Cures influenza, that Brown's Tea is best
 And costs no more than twenty-five cents the pound.

And that the purchaser who fain would quaff
 Smith's special brand of sherry must beware
 Of spurious imitations. On that hill
 A grand gigantic sign testifies
 To Johnson's hair restorer, and beyond
 You catch a glimpse of another sign,
 Proclaiming the message painted on the walls,
 "Johnson's Balm is warranted to cure!"
 Oh, does not such a view delight the heart?
 Yes, soon the time will come when every inch
 Of our land shall display its virtues true.
 When, newly taught, the birds shall add their notes

To the glad chorus, "Buy Pomona Paste!"

How great a debt of thankfulness we owe
 To those, the benefactors of our race,
 Who both contribute to the human race
 Productive to our use and pleasure known.
 And also glorify each rural scene.
 By these announcements of their excellence!
 And how we prize those of older date
 Who praised the country, but a little knew
 What beauty could be found in the scene.
 By the artistic advertiser's aid.
 To whom the hills, the meadows and the woods
 Brought no glad message such as we receive
 Of soap and sugar, pens, pianos, pills!
 —Philadelphia Bulletin.

In His Own Light.

The critic said: "He stands in his own light.
 The visionary poet!
 He tells and strives for issues out of sight.
 He prates about the right
 And makes himself the tool
 Of strange theories that he calls the truth
 And follows with the ardor of a youth.

"So all the while the power that he might win
 Slides from his grasp.
 And all the while the might might gather in
 He spins a mass of air.
 Letting his chances slip
 Footwise he dwells with poverty alone.
 And when he asks for bread receives a stone."

Answers the poet: "I stand in my own light.
 Wherein I plainly see
 The foe to human good who will fight
 And vanquish in the night
 Of God, who ruleth us.
 What care I for the power that you pursue
 With lies that cheat and cut you through and through!

"Beware the light which with infernal glow
 Events the subtle plan
 By which with hand that makes a solemn show
 Of bounty to bestow
 Flashes joy and hope from man.
 The light that lighteth up the world must give To each his place with work and power to live."

—Annie L. Munsey.

To the Men Who Lose.

Here's to the men who lose!
 What though their work be never so nobly planned
 And watched with jealous care,
 No glorious halo crowns their efforts grand;
 Content is failure's share.

Here's to the men who lose!
 If triumph's ebb while our struggles greet,
 Courage is easy then;
 The king is to who after fierce defeat
 Can up and fight again.

Here's to the men who lose!
 The ready plaudits of a fawning world
 Ring sweet in victor's ears; where the vanquished banners "over are unfurled"
 For them there none so eager.

Here's to the men who lose!
 The foundation of true worth is not success;
 There is a higher test:
 Though fate may darkly throw, still onward bravely
 And bravely do one's best.

Here's to the men who lose!
 It is the vanquisher's paradox that I sing,
 And this I hold I choose:
 "A hard fought failure is a noble thing;
 Here's to the men who lose!"

—Answers.

There is No Royal Road to God.
 There is no royal road to God!
 The humblest child
 Who kneels him down and dares
 Send one of nature's many prayers
 Up to the heart that waits
 At mercy's open gate
 Trends it—aye, as the elect have trod!

There is no royal road to God!
 The chastening rod
 Of conscience is a sting
 Alike for beggar and for king.
 And if each seek the way
 What then can lead them far astray,
 Though one be bare of foot and one most richly shod?

There is no royal road to God!
 The common soul
 Or born low down to grovel and to moan.
 All our inheritance is this:
 A thoroughfare to eternal bliss
 That, if our eyes but see, is smooth and broad.

—Edward Willson Mason.

Unknown Martyrs.
 Oh, many a heart seems happy in men's eyes
 Which all the while is breaking with mute woe
 Preyed on as by a fire that smokes and glows,
 Guilted by a secret work that never dies
 A lifelong disappointment, or the sighs
 That rise forever from an old and low
 Or small, keen pang that daily come and go
 Untold, with which but God can sympathize
 Such are fate's silent ministers, created
 To wage contention with the heart forever
 Alone, impelled this way and that that tilted
 With death, who champions its sublime in doer.

And that a noble martyr stuns unknown.
 —New York Home Journal.

"It is not in hymns a joy, propitious hour,
 With summer breezes and gentle breezes best,
 That man a consort's worth approach best;
 'Tis when the music with glowing lips is blown
 (When eases and sorrows all their torments pour)
 —George Hay Drummond.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MR. 24, '99.

Rescued at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Col. John S. Prater, Sr., died in Atlanta last week aged 102.

Hon. Patrick Walsh, Mayor of Augusta, died in that city Sunday morning.

Thursday of last week the railroad trucks in Rome were four feet under water.

Considerable damage was done to the city cemetery in Gainesville during the late tornado.

Three hundred new saloons have been opened in Manila since the occupation of Americans.

Five prominent men were killed at Hot Springs, Ark., in a street duel on the 16th, caused by local politics.

The office furniture belonging to Eugene Mayne and the British and Georgia Corporation will be sold by the sheriff of Hall county first Tuesday in next month.

A number of Greek fruit dealers have been arrested and fined in Savannah for selling cigarettes to school children. While others left out for parts unknown.

Farmer W. H. Culpepper, of Mitchell county seems to be making money raising hogs. He shipped a car load to Atlanta one day last week and received a check for $770.80.

One day last week the little son of Tom Sain was bitten by J. T. Hargrove's dog in Gainesville and the city clerk issued an order on Mr. Hargrove to move his dog a place beyond the city limits.

Miss E. A. White, from Watersford, N. Y., died in Savannah the other day. Her last request was that she wanted to be buried in the colored cemetery. Her request was not complied with as a city ordinance prevented it.

W. B. Fry, formerly of Auraria but now of Lead, S. Dakota, in sending for the NUGGET says, "I have to have it to keep track with old friends in Lumpkin. This has been the worst winter we have had here in 22 years. The ground is still covered with deep snow and still there is more to follow. We sadly miss your fine Georgia climate, and hope to get back to it some day."

Since the negro killing at Palmetto her citizens can go to bed without any uneasiness. The best portion of the town had been destroyed by fire, which had been traced to incendiary, and when these nine negroes were arrested and one confessed with a grin that he had a hand in the burning, and implicated the others, a mob composed of unknown persons, rushed into the town and put an end to their career.

It is said that there has been more than fifty murders committed in Hall county within the past 27 years and not a single hanging, and last week 72 of her citizens, headed by Bro. Craig, of the Eagle, not wishing the record to be broken, signed a petition asking Governor Canfield to commute the sentence of Carlin Law, the negro murderer already convicted, from hanging to the penitentiary for life. Solicitor Charters and Judge Estes were asked to sign the petition but they refused.

A very destructive cyclone struck some portions of Georgia Alabama, Tennessee and Arkansas Saturday night, killing many persons and doing great damage to property. It was about 25 miles wide in some places. Trees were pulled up by the roots, fences were blown for miles and houses were picked up like feathers and smashed to pieces. In Alabama one little child was completely wrapped around a stump. Four persons were killed at Waynesboro, an engine was wrecked on the Georgia Southern at Cordele, and it blew cars off the track at Vienna.

A Wholesale Forger.

S. M. McCurry, of Hall county, who is well known in Dahlonega, has been doing a very profitable business in forging fictitious names of persons to notes purporting to have resided in Lumpkin and White counties when they were given, and trading them to the Gainesville National Bank—said notes falling due on Dec. 27, 1898. McCurry got scared up and left out about three weeks ago, but none of our citizens were aware of his acts until last week when a gentleman was sent here from Gainesville with a copy of these notes to make an investigation.

The names appearing on the notes are as follows:

One note for $180, with the names of John Jones and James Jones, of Lumpkin county.

One for $110, with the names of Henry Cooper and John Cooper, of Lumpkin county.

And another for $125, with the name of Henry Clark, of White county. Total amount $425.

There are no such persons residing in Lumpkin county as Henry and John Cooper, and there is no John Jones residing here. There is a John W. Jones living at Jay, the father of merchant W. H. Jones, of Dahlonega. James Jones used to reside in this county but has been dead many years.

Why it is that the bank failed to investigate this matter until these notes had been due more than two months we cannot say.

Card of Thanks.

MR. EDITOR:

Please allow me to say a few words relative to the literary entertainment at the college March 11, 1899, the proceeds of which were given to our little six year old son, Paul, with which to buy a brace for his lame hip.

Words seem well nigh meaningless to speak forth the language of the heart at such times as this, and only those who may have been placed in similar sad circumstances can fully appreciate the language of the heart.—(Luke 8-43.)

We appreciate the more than fifty dollars raised and the money has already been forwarded on its mission of love and usefulness, but the noble hearts of our people merit our highest appreciation and deepest love, and they have it.

To the NUGGET for its institution and liberal help given the entertainment, the Signal for kindly mention, the students, trustees and faculty of the N. G. A. College, the Epworth League, the Presbyterian, the Baptist and Methodist churches, to Mr. C. L. Marsland, the accomplished scholar, and others who took part in the entertainment, we say with the deepest respect of our heart, God bless you in all things. This expression of kindness came from no one person, society or church, but from these and more, for it seems that everybody did a full share. Capt. E. W. Hall saw the program in the NUGGET and he, from Florida, ordered $5.00 worth of tickets.

All these are our friends and we feel that in our suffering child, we have an abiding interest. We sincerely hope you who that his limb and life may be spared, and we fondly hope that he may become useful to his day and generation, and so live and act that your interest may become an approval, and may we say it, genuine admiration of an upright, correct habits and life.

Looking into our faces the other day from his couch, suffering at the Grady Hospital, he said, "That was very kind and good of the people of Dahlonega. Thank them for me, will you?" This we do.

Sincerely,

D. M. and Mrs. EDWARDS.

Dahlonega, Ga., Mr. 19, 1899.

Nineteen years ago Geo. Fletcher, of Alabama, died at Porter Springs and was buried at Yahola cemetery. Last week his relatives had his remains removed to his home. The coffin had nearly all decayed and nothing was left of the body except a few bones.

Mining Notes.

Col. Wharton made another payment of two thousand dollars on the Calhoun property last Tuesday to the Board of trustees of the N. G. A. College.

Fate and Tom Johnson, who have been mining down on the Ivey property since December have been doing well. They started to clean up Wednesday but were prevented from finishing by the rain. Four panfuls out of the head of the stone produced an ounce of pure gold.

Mr. John Huff was in from the Chestate mine last Saturday. He has been unable to clean up on account of sickness and the bad weather, but thinks that he has a good gold mine. The rain damaged his ditch considerably, but now everything is in working order and he is going right ahead.

O. J. Thies, after spending several days here left for his home in North Carolina last Friday. He secured 25 samples from the Jumbo and another mine, which he will give a fair test at the Hale Mine, where they are amply prepared to do so, in order to get an average yield of the veins already discovered at these mines.

Mr. Walker has been endeavoring to get his new ten stamp mill at the Crescent ready to start today.

All the other mining operations are moving along as usual. Officers will open up as soon as the rainy season ends, which it is hoped will do so soon. For the past week or so it has been raining half the time which is some improvement on the weather.

It seems that Sheriff Foster, of Towns county, has got into trouble by going across the line and arresting a Georgian named Steedley who was wanted in his county for a misdemeanor without securing requisition papers. North Carolina is offended and it is expected that the Governor of that state will make a demand to Governor Canfield for the body of the sheriff, together with his posse, to be turned over to the authorities of North Carolina to be dealt with as the law directs in such cases. The Governor of Georgia has a strong petition from leading citizens of Towns county, asking him not to give any requisition papers in case the demand is made.

How's This?

Gov. Candler, Compt. Wright and Treas. Spear have changed the return day of taxes from the first day of March to the first day of February. And the last legislature made it the duty of tax receivers to swear each person returning taxes. Upon the failure of a tax receiver to do this he is guilty of a misdemeanor, and any person giving information of a failure on the part of the receiver to administer the oaths shall receive half of the $10 which is taken from the commissions of the receiver and the other half goes to the general educational fund of the state.

Work commenced last Monday on a one hundred-room hotel at Tallulah Falls.

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER.

To the Superior Court of said county: The petition of H. D. Gurley, R. C. Stewart, J. P. Moore, H. D. Gurley, R. C. Stewart and W. A. Charters, all of whom are residents of said county, respectfully shew:

1. That they desire for themselves, their associates, and assigns to be incorporated under the name and style of Dahlonega Telephone Company.
2. They desire to be incorporated for the term of twenty years, with privilege of renewal at the expiration of time.
3. The capital stock of said corporation is to be One Thousand Dollars, divided into ten thousand shares of ten cents each.
4. They desire the right to increase said capital stock by and with consent of the holders of a majority of said stock to any sum not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars.
5. Twenty per centum of said capital stock or One Hundred Dollars has already been paid in.
6. The object of said corporation shall be the building, equipping, maintaining and operating a telephone line or system from Dahlonega in said county to the city of Gainesville in Hall county, said state, also for the building, equipping, maintaining and operating such telephone line or system in said county and between said town of Dahlonega and any other point or place in said state to be determined by its Board of Directors.
7. Said corporation in so buying and maintaining such telephone line or system desires the right to charge such reasonable rates and tolls for the use of its line or any part thereof as shall be fixed by its Board of Directors—keeping in view a pecuniary gain and profit for its stockholders.
8. Said corporation desires the right to make and have all such rules, regulations and by-laws as shall be deemed to be in the interest of its business and to exercise all such powers and privileges and to do all acts not inconsistent with law, as shall pertain to the business of conducting and operating a telephone line or system.
9. The principal office and place of business of said company shall be in the town of Dahlonega, said state.

Wherefore petitioners pray to be made a body corporate under the name and style as aforesaid, and that said corporation be vested with the general and usual powers and privileges now granted by law to corporations created by the Superior Courts, and with such special powers and privileges as are hereinafter set forth.
PRICE & CHARTER, Petitioners Attorneys.
G. C. Wallace, Clerk of the Superior Court in and for said county, certifies that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original petition for incorporation of Dahlonega Telephone Company, now on file in his office. This March 21, 1899.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MR. 24, '99

Clyde Meaders left out last Monday for Ringgold, Ga.

Sugar cane syrup 35 cents per gallon at B. R. Meaders & Sons.

A. W. Smith, a prosperous farmer of White county, spent a few hours in Dahlonega last Monday.

Miss Sallie Reid, after spending some time with her parents in this county returned to Jackson last week.

Our new town Marshal, Mr. Blackwell, commenced work on the streets last Monday putting in every day that the weather would admit.

J. A. Howard, attended to the post office while assistant postmaster Price went down to Gainesville first of the week to purchase some material for his house.

Last Monday at Anniston, Ala. Col. R. L. Bullard, who had charge of the military department of the N. G. A. College in 1897, was presented with a magnificent gold watch by the officers.

J. F. Moore has received his stock of spring and summer goods which is one of the largest and completest ever brought to Dahlonega, all to be sold at reasonable prices. His motto is to live and let live.

Ira Gaddis, the thirteen year-old son of Francis Gaddis, died near the cemetery last Sunday night and was buried at the expense of the county the following day. The lad has been afflicted with dropsy for some time and no doubt is better off now as his sufferings have been great.

We regret to learn that J. W. Weaver, one of our most experienced gold miners, who resides a few miles above Dahlonega, has been in declining health for some time. We trust that a change will take place and that his strength will be renewed so as to enable him to dig out much more of the yellow metal before his time is ended.

G. D. Bruce, the photographer, left for Atlanta last Wednesday to purchase such articles as is necessary for a first class gallery, which he will open out in the rear part of the Doctor Howard store house. A sky light is being put in and the room fitted up so as to enable Mr. Bruce to turn out the best work in this line ever done in Dahlonega.

W. L. Henley, book keeper and general manager of the Hall Mide Co., went down to Gainesville this week to lay in a supply of mattresses, furniture, etc. The business of this firm has increased considerably since this gentleman has been given full charge of the concern. He is a wide awake, energetic gentleman, and thoroughly acquainted with the business now in his charge.

Dr. Simpson, wife and child of Delaware, O., are here for the purpose of making Dahlonega their home. They are stopping at Hall's Villa now but will likely rent a dwelling and move into it later on. We, together with the people of Dahlonega, extend to them a most hearty welcome. Dahlonega throws open her gates and invites in all who wish to either visit or become citizens—matters not where they reside or what politics they claim.

A portion of an article written by Mr. McCollough, of Toledo, O., about Dahlonega and her mines will be found on our first page. The gentleman thinks strange because our miners close out the mills here when the thermometer is within 10 degrees of zero. The miners here do not get but 80 cents per day for their labor which does not enable them to feed and clothe themselves so as to live fat and comfortable like the miners of the West, who receive from two to three dollars per day for their work. Therefore they can't jump into the cold icy water slides and almost faintless.

One horse harrows at J. F. Moores.

The business and population of Dahlonega are increasing.

E. E. Crisson, who has been sick for some time is up on foot again.

All those who advertise in the Nugget are doing a successful business.

Merchant J. F. Moore paid Gainesville a flying visit last Friday.

Dr. Howard is again enjoying his usual health and able to drive out into the country.

Rev. D. M. Edwards filled the pulpit at the M. E. Church Sunday and had a large congregation.

J. H. Taylor and lady, of Ellijay, spent several days in Dahlonega last week with relatives.

Barber Underwood means business. He has purchased him a lot and is now having a dwelling erected on it.

It was hard to tell which there was the most of in town last Friday—blockade liquor or sweet potatoes.

Sweet potatoes seem to be very plentiful. Retailing at 75 cents, and mountain Irish potatoes from 80 cents to one dollar.

From every appearance the blockaders of this county are doing a thriving business. But the scale will eventually turn.

Sheriff Davis, who is a farmer, puts in every day he can in tilling the soil when not engaged in official business, the latter seeming very dull just now.

We learn that Col. Farrow was up to Porter Springs first of the week, probably for the purpose of planting and having vegetables ready for his guests next summer.

E. P. Chambers, a fire insurance agent of Gainesville, was up Saturday getting the locations and distances from different buildings so as to give those who desire to insure the cost of the same.

Col. Baker speaks of putting up an overshoot wheel down at his farm, together with a good saw, and furnishing our citizens all the wood they want. Most likely this would be a good investment.

Judge Brittain, our present post master, speaks of attending the ninth annual reunion of confederate veterans which meets at Charleston, S. C., May 10th and continue through the 13th. Col. Price will likely go too.

The blockaders seem to be very bold in Dahlonega with the sale of their liquor. It was brought in last Friday from three different directions. One fellow bought him a new half gallon cup and when he started off to the woods he was followed by men like kittens after sweet milk.

"Bud" Harris, who was stricken with paralysis some time ago, is certainly a pitiful looking object and is one of the most deserving old soldiers that is asking the state for a pension, which, if not granted soon will do him no good, as he is unable to work a lick and is gradually losing strength.

Last Saturday night while dreaming that the war between the United States and Spain had been renewed, plainly hearing the yells and shrieks of those in battle, we woke up and found that it was only the boys having their usual midnight sport, which has occurred so much that it has become very annoying to those who wish to retire in peaceful slumber after their days work is done.

There were a number of old soldiers in town latter part of last week, who had recently made out their claims for pensions, to see if anything had been heard from them. Among them was Uncle Marg Grizzle who only a few years ago danced so at Col. Farrow's frolic at Porter just before the stock law election in that district. Uncle Marg's dancing season is over with now as he is so old and crippled up that he can scarcely walk and now has to appeal to the state for a partial support.

You will find seed sweet potatoes and yams at G. McGuire's.

All those who have made an examination state that the peach crop in this county will be a total failure.

Frank Rider has returned from Central America. Mr. W. R. Crandall accompanied him as far as New Orleans.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle and posse destroyed three large illicit stills last Wednesday out on Wells' creek in Niblewell district but caught no one at them.

We understand that the Dock Hope house belonging to Capt. F. W. Hall, will either be moved back off of the street or demolished and a new one built on the property.

Will have Wednesday some nice white dress goods, light spring calico, embroidery and lace, etc. Also a limited number of ladies shoes.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

Most every day some of those who have made out claims for state pensions not on the regular list, are in to see if they have been heard from. Last year no new claims were heard from until August, and it may be that late again this year.

We heard a church member say this week, "By G—d, I wish it would rain 40 days and 40 nights." We hope that his prominence in church matters will have no effect, for there are few who are ready to fill a watery grave, and trust that all our lives will be spared until we can get ready to meet death peacefully.

Mat Wood, who lived at the Findley, two miles from Dahlonega, went off last Monday for parts unknown, leaving his wife and six children, because, he claimed that his wife was untrue to him, while his wife denies the charge, who says he probably got scared and went off because she threatened to prosecute him for making inhuman requests of her.

The open debate of Phi Mu Society took place Monday night. Excellent declamations were rendered by H. B. Howard and G. A. Gurley. The speakers debated the subject, "Resolved That the United States should own and control the railroads." J. H. Byers and W. O. Flemming represented the affirmative and C. L. Ridley and J. M. Starr the negative. After a very interesting debate President E. M. Clark rendered his decision in favor of the affirmative.

We have been asked numbers of times what time the Davis bridge would be completed. For the benefit of those interested we will say that the ordinary informs us that no time has been fixed yet as the contractor, has not sent, any bond for the faithful performance of the work, though he is expected here every day as a final settlement has not been made for the Bearden's bridge which he built—the ordinary claiming something for the months delay of the work.

From what we learn Rector Whelchel, who lived at New Bridge and went to school awhile in Dahlonega last year has been in to more trouble out in Alabama. Recently a letter was received by his brother-in-law, Mr. John Poor that he had forged an order or check on a bank. Then another one stated that he had been convicted of breaking into a store for which he was fined $100 or in default of payment to serve 12 months in the chain gang. A telegram was sent to ascertain what amount it would take to pay him out. A reply was received and Mr. A. B. Crenshaw went off about two weeks ago and we suppose paid the young man out. Just before Christmas it is reported that Whelchel went to High Shoals, broke into a barber shop and carried away some razors and musical instruments. This matter was settled off so we are informed by him returning the articles and paying ten dollars. Then he left out for Alabama where he got into this late trouble.

Dr. Jones went down to Atlanta Wednesday.

Eastern potatoes are retailing at 40 cents per peck in Dahlonega this season.

Our merchants know which side of their bread is buttered is why they are advertising in the Nugget.

Sure enough H. L. Blackwell was elected town marshal and now wears the badge, just as we predicted.

Some of the little boys are doing a good deal of mischief with their air guns in shooting stock and damaging glass windows.

Our merchants are receiving large stocks of goods. Don't go away from home to trade but spend your money with them.

Wm. Price's building is about framed and if the weather will admit the contractor will have it completed in a short while.

Sam Glenn, of Dawson county, was bound over by U. S. Commissioner Baker last Friday charged with making blockade liquor.

What is known as the Green school house near the college has been converted into a dwelling and will be occupied by Wm. Ricketts.

Since the old Burnside House has been dressed up in a new coat of paint with green trimmings it presents a right nice appearance.

Lone Bruce has rented the Bill Cook farm from G. McGuire and will move to it. Mr. Cook will come to town until he gets ready to move to Montana.

The town has council had a rock culvert built across the street between McGuire's and Stricklands. Fate Carter did the job for twenty-five dollars.

The traveling dispensary was in town the other night dealing out the much loved medicine, having such a good effect that it caused some of the more lively patrons to scream and yell and fire off their pistols, waking up and alarming the inhabitants.

Some one threw a rock through one of G. McGuire's front glass doors the other night. Judge Estes would make the perpetrator of this mean act smoke if it was so that he could be brought before him, but such conduct generally takes place when all law abiding citizens are asleep.

Solicitor Charters came in from Habersham Thursday of last week being the fourth court in which he has acted in an official capacity. At these four courts 92 true bills have been returned—at Hall 50, Dawson 15, Rabun 15, Habersham 12. The Colonel will attend Towns Superior Court next week.

We do not care to insert any merchants ad. who is doing a retail business outside of Dahlonega. We are in favor of patronizing home industries and spending all the money we can with our home merchants. If every body would do this goods would be cheaper and there would be more money in the country. If we all fail to work for our home people how can we expect the town to prosper?

The other day while Assistant Postmaster Price was rowing a narrow boat across the Chestatee river, the swollen stream got the advantage of him, carrying it down instead of across the stream, and just as it started over Hall's four foot dam Price lit out and was soon safe on the bank, though as wet as a drowned rat and considerably excited. He went below, pulled the boat ashore and resumed his journey home.

Cristopher Wofford says that we were mistaken about the amount of corn he lost recently by the burning of his crib—being 100 bushels of sound and rotten corn instead of 200. Glad we were mistaken about his loss being so heavy. As a general thing you can't tell what a man is worth until he wants to sign some friends bond, his house is destroyed or he desires to get some money from a Loan Association.

A. B. Crenshaw was up from New Bridge last Monday.

J. E. Moore has both the Eastern and mountain Irish potatoes.

The Nugget office is the place to apply if you want a good sewing machine cheap.

By the advice of Dr. Jones Clerk Wallace has been housed up several days this week.

B. R. Meaders and Sons want 50 bushels good ear corn which they will pay 65 cents per bushel.

A little child of W. B. Woodward has been sick with pneumonia fever for more than a week.

Countrymen, turn your course in the direction of Dahlonega and do not go away from home to spend your money.

G. McGuire has just received a large and well selected stock of spring goods which he proposes to sell you at rock bottom prices.

Mr. Burch, who is successfully mining the bed of the Chestatee river with a dredge boat, spent a few hours in Dahlonega last Monday.

H. D. Gurley already has his splendid stock of spring and summer goods displayed on his shelves and priced so that every body can afford to buy what they want.

But a few more days until the real estate belonging to the late Chas. A. Besser will be sold and fall into new hands. Most of the property is valuable and will likely bring a good price.

W. B. Woodward and Miss Alice, daughter of Mr. A. B. Roberts, of Dahlonega, were wedded last Monday evening by Rev. W. H. McAfee. May their future lives be long, happy and prosperous.

Will Evans surprised our citizens last Tuesday by delivering the mail here at 4 p. m., first time, from two to three hours earlier than usual. There is no trouble about the mail getting here early when the vehicle is not over loaded with passengers.

Several of our merchants have something new to say to the public through their ads to be found elsewhere. Read and ponder them well and then go and spend your money with them. They are men of long business experience and will treat you right.

NOTICE.—All persons indebted to the firm of Jones & Brooksher by note or account, are hereby notified to make settlement by the 10th of April, next, or they will find same in the hands of an officer for collection. March 23rd, 1899.

No larger or better selected stock of spring and summer goods can be found in town than at the Hall Mide Co. store. A prettier line of dress goods cannot be found in any market. Their enormous stock of goods is complete in every department, marked at lower prices than ever before heard of in Dahlonega.

It seems that the stock holders of the Dahlonega and Gainesville Telephone Co. were moving a bit too fast. They met, organized and elected officers and directors and awarded the contract for the delivery of the posts and digging of the holes before receiving any charter. Clyde and Frank Meaders were awarded the above contract—20 cents each for digging the holes and 66 cents for the posts—and when it came to signing up the contract for this work Monday there was no company authorized by law to do it and things will be on a stand still now until a charter is procured at the April term of Lumpkin Superior court which is only a few weeks off. About one-fourth of the money has already been paid in ready as soon as the company is authorized by law to proceed. Mr. Oliver, the telephone man at Gainesville has only been paying from 40 to 50 cents for posts 24 feet long and six inches at small end. He says that no shorter or smaller ones should be used.

But few of our farmers have plowed a furrow.

M. G. Head is going to erect him a dwelling on the corner of his hotel lot.

While Mr. Kingsbury, of Auraria, was in town Saturday he stated that some work should be done so as to protect the pillar on this side of the river down at New Bridge. Mr. Kingsbury says that he has no interest in the matter whatever but hates to see a good bridge like this destroyed, and that $100 used in fixing this and repainting the structure would be money well spent.

A fight occurred at the first road working that we have heard of in Lumpkin county this year, being over in Martin's Ford last week between Tom Clements and a negro named Geo. Riley. Upon catching the negro got Tom down in a gulley and held him with his mattock, while his antagonist was cutting at him with his knife, each blow missing its aim. They were separated and peace proclaimed.

The heavy rains have caused our streets and side walks to be in bad condition which will require a large amount of work to put them in good condition again. Much of this could have been saved by having a man go round after each rain and unchoke the flumes. Down our way one has been stopped up for some time causing the water to run down the street and wash out a deep gulley for near fifty yards which will require a man half a day to fix it now when it could have been done at the proper time with ten minutes work. It would pay the council, when having a marshal who is too lazy or nice to do these things, to employ some little boy to look after the flumes and gulleys, same as a farmer does his fences and water gaps after a storm or rain.

The Good Book says that there will be wars and rumors of wars, and some of those residing in Yabowha district seem to be doing everything they can to have it come to pass, for scarcely a week passes but what there is a quarrel or a fight in that part of the county. The latest from the seat of war is that Bob and Geo. Walker, Jr., and John and Bob Porter had a skirmish. Then afterwards Bob Porter and Mary Postell fought, resulting in no blood shed however, for Mary came this way to get a warrant and Bob went to the mountain in search of a hiding place until the storm calmed down. It is said that the origin of the fuss was about which was entitled to grasp the loving hand of a female visitor who was spending a few days up there enjoying the kind hospitality of her many lovers and viewing the beautiful mountain scenery, which caught her pretty eyes at every glance when not hid from view by her many admirers who stood around the woman in great groups.

There is always some trouble up in this county about the public schools—some people not wanting any school at all unless the institution is located at their doors, or some of their relatives or special friends is the teacher. Mr. Burns, a former student of the N. G. A. College, secured a school down near New Bridge recently and got permission to teach in Soule's Chapel until the school house could be repaired, which is being done now. After teaching a week the young man got sick. When recovering he returned to resume his duties and found a notice posted up on the door signed by 4 of the 7 trustees forbidding him from teaching in the church any longer. The teacher reported the matter to the proper authorities and Col. Price, one of the members of the board of education, went down last Friday for the purpose of perfecting a compromise until the repairs on the school house can be completed. We do not know the names of the trustees who objected nor do we know what will be a power to worm round against a copper that there is not one of them who would be willing to post up a notice warning persons not to come there while under the influence of liquor.

THE SAN JOSE SCALE

RAVAGES OF THIS AWFUL PEST IN GEORGIA AND HOW IT MAY BE CHECKED.

ANSWERS TO MANY INQUIRIES

Department of Agriculture Supplies Information on Subjects of Interest to Farmers.

QUESTION.—Is the San Jose scale more dangerous in the south than in the north?

ANSWER.—This pest is much more destructive in the south than in the north, owing to the longer breeding and feeding season afforded it by the southern climate. In Georgia, the scale lies dormant only about two months—from Dec. 15 to Feb. 15—leaving it ten months in the year in which to multiply at a very rapid rate, and prosecute its destructive work of sapping the life of the tree. Even during the dormant period there come "days warm enough to revive the insects and set them to breeding again."

In January, 1898, infested peach twigs were received from Danville, Ga., on which living young were crawling profusely. On Feb. 14, 1899, specimens were received at this office from Ocho, Ga., and upon examination they were found to be breeding. On March 8, 1899, I inspected an orchard in South Georgia and found the scale breeding freely on plum trees. From this almost incessant breeding and feeding it can be readily understood that the San Jose scale is more dangerous in southern climates than in the north, where the period of its destructive work is cut short by the cold of winter.

Again, the peach trees being more susceptible to injuries of any kind than almost any other orchard tree, and since the peach is the principal fruit grown in this state, we suffer more from the ravages of the scale than other states that grow apples and other fruits that are more resistant.

With us peach trees are entirely killed in two seasons after they are first attacked. On April 30, 1898, I inspected an orchard of 1,000 3-year peach trees at Pine City, Ga., and after careful search found only six trees infested with the San Jose scale. No treatment was applied to this orchard, and on Nov. 10 of the same year I visited it again, and found one-third of the trees entirely crusted over with the scale and in a dying condition.

In view of these facts, with other similar cases, we must conclude that the San Jose scale is much more destructive in the southern states than in the north.—State Entomologist.

Raising "Broom Corn."
QUESTION.—I have decided to grow "broom corn" for the market. Please give me all the information along this line possible.

ANSWER.—This plant is a variety of "sorghum," and a native of the East Indies. The introduction of this plant is attributed to Dr. Franklin, who found a seed on a whisk broom that had been imported, planted it, and from this originated the culture of "broom corn" in the United States. The average product of broom corn is about 800 pounds. There has been produced from very fine soil and locality as high as 1,000 pounds per acre.

As there seems to be no substitute for broom corn brush, there is always a demand for it, and it is a crop that can be easily cultivated. It is a profitable one for the farmers to raise in those sections to which it is well adapted.

The seed make a very good food for horses when mixed with cut hay. It is also fine food for poultry after the chicks are two or three weeks old, when fed with other food. When ground with our common Indian corn in proportion to three bushels of broom corn to one of Indian corn, it makes good food for cattle, hogs or sheep.

Generally speaking, broom corn grows best where our native corn grows best, and the preparation of the land is similar to that for corn. Good river or branch bottom land is best suited to this plant; but any good land well drained will, with baryard manure, or a good fertilizer, make a good yield. The better plan is to broadcast the manure, plow and harrow the same so as to pulverize the soil thoroughly. Plant in the drill or in hills. The rows may be from three to four feet, according to the variety to be grown; the dwarf varieties in three feet rows and the larger varieties in four feet rows. The hills may be two or three feet. When the seed are sound and well ripened, two quarts will be sufficient to plant one acre. Be sure to get good seed. You can use the seed drills that will plant small seed, or if only a few acres are to be planted, you may plant with the hand. The cultivation is similar to that of corn, only you have to use more care and skill because of the smallness of the plant. Thinning should be done when the plants are two or three inches high, leaving five or six to the hill, or if drilled, the stalks should be left three or four inches apart.

As to the harvesting and curing of the broom corn, I will take pleasure in advising you later if you desire such information.—State Agricultural Department.

Georgia's First Cotton Mill.
QUESTION.—Can you tell me where the first cotton mill was established in Georgia?

ANSWER.—The first factory established in Georgia was built on the Ogeechee river, 4 miles below Athens, in the year 1827. This enterprise proved successful, and was soon after followed by many others in the same county (Clarke) and in Green, Richmond and other counties. From small beginnings these enterprises have in late years developed to considerable magnitude, and with a pecuniary success that points to them as agents of a most prosperous era in the history of our state. The splendid water powers of the Savannah at Augusta, and the Chattahoochee at Columbus, could not long fail to attract the attention of a people alive to their own interest and to the general welfare. Georgia has great advantages in this respect over the New England states, which have hitherto manufactured most of the American cotton and wool fabrics, but the dawn of a brighter day has set in, and we see from year to year capital pouring this way to our beautiful south land. Manufacturers are now convinced that the place to manufacture cotton is on the ground floor where the cotton is grown and produced, and sooner or later, the whirl of the cotton spindle will be heard from the top of every mountain, as well as from every valley in our beautiful Empire state of the south. Here we have no need of the middle man or transportation. Wages are much less here than in the New England states, the cost of water and steam power is less, building material of every kind is less, living expenses are less and the climate is more favorable. The wheels are set in motion, and the products are sent to the consumers of our products at our own doors, and for these reasons alone the manufacturer of cotton must and will come southward. There is still room for greater strides along this line than Georgia has made in the past, and yet she has done well.

Just how many organized cotton mills there are now in operation, we are unable to say, but more than a decade ago we had more than 50. We also have many wool factories, paper factories, iron foundries, flour mills, glass quarries and stamp mills in operation, and railroad shops, locomotive and car factories, carriage and wagon, boot and shoe factories, and cash and blind factories, we have in large number. We have tanneries, potteries, liquor and turpentine distilleries, and fertilizer factories also without number.—State Agricultural Department.

Georgia, also give me any information touching the early manufactures and the progress of the state in Georgia?

ANSWER.—The first factory established in Georgia was built on the Ogeechee river, 4 miles below Athens, in the year 1827. Here we have no need of the middle man or transportation. Wages are much less here than in the New England states, the cost of water and steam power is less, building material of every kind is less, living expenses are less and the climate is more favorable. The wheels are set in motion, and the products are sent to the consumers of our products at our own doors, and for these reasons alone the manufacturer of cotton must and will come southward. There is still room for greater strides along this line than Georgia has made in the past, and yet she has done well.

Just how many organized cotton mills there are now in operation, we are unable to say, but more than a decade ago we had more than 50. We also have many wool factories, paper factories, iron foundries, flour mills, glass quarries and stamp mills in operation, and railroad shops, locomotive and car factories, carriage and wagon, boot and shoe factories, and cash and blind factories, we have in large number. We have tanneries, potteries, liquor and turpentine distilleries, and fertilizer factories also without number.—State Agricultural Department.

In view of these facts, with other similar cases, we must conclude that the San Jose scale is much more destructive in the southern states than in the north.—State Entomologist.

Spraying For the Pest.

QUESTION.—Owing to the continued rains, I have been unable to spray a single tree since Christmas. How late can I spray for the San Jose scale, and must the per cent of oil be diminished as the buds advance?

ANSWER.—Twenty-five per cent of kerosene is the strength to be used against the San Jose scale during the dormant period, and this can be used in the spring until the fruit buds begin to open. In the spring when the tree begins to grow it is even in better condition to resist the ill effects of the kerosene. It is invigorated and enabled to throw off the oil that might penetrate the bark. It is not safe, however, to spray with any per cent while the trees are in full bloom. The kerosene would burn the petals and injure the fruit. After the bloom is shed the spraying can be continued with a 15 per cent mixture. A good deal of work would likely burn the tender foliage. The 15 per cent strength will kill a large per cent of the scale and check its ravages to a great extent. If the orchard has received the 25 per cent winter treatment, however, it should not be necessary to commence the summer treatment so early. Every favorable day up to the blooming period should be utilized in spraying infested trees with the 20 per cent mixture. It is important that bright, sunny days be selected to apply the treatment, otherwise the oil may penetrate the bark of the trees and injure them before evaporating.—State Entomologist.

Spring and Summer Forage.

QUESTION.—The unprecedented fall and winter prevented the farmers from saving forage and sowing grain crops. What shall we do for spring and summer forage?

ANSWER.—It is not too late to sow the Bar or the White oat—can sow on good lands (branch bottoms and well-manured plots) until March 11 with fair success, but advise that farmers should not depend entirely on oats for forage. One who would like to plant sorghum, (German Amber is best) millet, (German and Central) milo maize, Kaffir corn, whippoorwill seed, popcorn and the early varieties of Indian corn, on land thoroughly prepared and highly manured, with lot and stable manure or good commercial fertilizers that contain 3 or 3 per cent of ammonia, so as to rush the crops and afford plenty of stalk and foliage. The crops should be harvested when they are in the dough, cut as hay and fed to stock as hay or fodder, or can be cut earlier and fed as green stuff. After cutting off the crop then plant peas, either in drill or broadcast, and thus renew the fertility of the land as well as produce provender for another year.—State Agricultural Department.

African Limbless Cotton Seed

Free.

Anyone who sends one dollar for a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.

A pound of these seed will plant one-fifth of an acre, and with proper attention should yield enough to plant a crop.

The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station and a bulletin recently issued by Director Eddings shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 161 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties.

The African Limbless Cotton produced 780 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these excellent seeds. The value of the product, costing cotton at 5 cents and seed at 31 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $4.77 per acre.

The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station makes it worth a farmer's while to test these seeds when he can get them for nothing.

The Journal brings you the NEWS OF THE WORLD TWICE A WEEK, with hundreds of articles of special interest about the farm, the household, juvenile topics, etc., and every Southern farmer should have the paper.

You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, which charge the same price.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

Valuable Town Property Offered at Public Outcry.

By authority of an order from the court of Ordinary, of Lumpkin county, I will sell on the first Tuesday in April next all the real estate of deceased, as follows:

1. All the Store House and Dwelling on the North corner of the public square in Dahlonega, lately occupied as a Drug Store. The building is spacious and in addition to a store room it is sufficiently large for a Private or a Public Boarding House. It has a frontage of 50 feet on the public Square and running back to Warwick Street, and includes the harness shop now occupied by Mr. John Housley.

2. A lot on Chestnut Street opposite "Hall's Villa" on which is located a cottage of two rooms, supplied with a well of fine water. The lot contains about one-half an acre and, heretofore one of the best gardens in Dahlonega.

3. A small lot near one-fourth of an acre in rear of the above named lot, facing on Spring Street, suitable for a cottage or garden.

4. The "Stable Lot" containing one-fourth of an acre known on Town Map as lot No. 30. On the lot is situated a large framed stable, formerly used in connection with the "Besser House."

5. A vacant lot designated as lot No. 41 on Town Map, containing one-fourth of an acre, fronting on public Street. It is well adapted for improvement as a residence lot, and quite near to the new Baptist Church.

6. Also, the undivided one-third interest in lots Nos. 64, and 877, the 12th district and first section of Lumpkin county, being 1-3 acres in each lot.

Seldom in the history of Dahlonega has the opportunity been presented of buying, at public sale, property of this character.

TERMS:
One-half cash, the balance within six months with interest from date at 8 per cent. Except in the case of the store house. As there is a mortgage on this property the entire purchase money will be required, unless other arrangements are made prior to day of sale. Purchasers can, if they so desire, pay cash, and take titles at once.

W. P. PRICE,
Administrator of
C. A. Besser's Estate.

THE NUGGET.

LAHONECA, GA., MR. JO. '99.
Entered at the Dahlonega Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The U. S. troops and insurgents are having warm times around Manila.

A splendid premium list has been arranged for the State Fair which will be held in Atlanta this fall.

Last Monday the Union Pacific Railway Company at Omaha commenced selling six million acres of land.

During the month of January 1,800 persons died from grip in New York, and in December 3,000.

In Arkansas there is yet a large amount of last years cotton un-picked. It was impossible to get hands to do the work.

Oh that beef investigation. It is costing the government a heavy sum of money and will amount to nothing after it is completed.

Since Feb. 4th 1,500 insurgents have been captured by the United States at and near Manila, while the enemy has not a single prisoner of ours.

The United States' plan of fighting is very expensive. It whips the enemy and then turns round and pays it a large sum of money for doing so.

A Savannah man shipped a thousand dozen eggs to Havana, and will get $1.60 per dozen for them—one thousand six hundred dollars for the lot.

Blue Ridge is trying to get up a baseball team. The country would be much more prosperous if the young men would take hold of the hoe and plow handles instead of the ball and bat.

The commissioner of internal revenue has decided that the state school commissioner does not have to stamp his checks, which means a saving to the public teachers of Georgia $750 per year.

The Philippine rebels are making ready to resist the attack by Gen. Otis who expects to advance as soon as reinforcements arrive. It is expected that he will soon have 41,000 effective men.

Tom Blodgett, a self appointed leader of the republican party of Georgia was tried last week in Cherokee Superior Court in two cases. He defended himself. In one case he was acquitted but was found guilty in the other and fined $100 and costs.

The billion dollar congress has adjourned. The appropriation figures for the fifty-fifth Congress is $1,566,890,016, and for the session just closed, $673,658,400 with authority for contracts subject to future appropriations amounting to $70,700,000.

It is whispered now that Judge J. J. Kinsey, of Cleveland, will be before the people of the Ninth District for Congress at the next election. Of course Hon. F. C. Tate will be a candidate for reelection, but Judge Kinsey will make it interesting to him and may destroy Carter's heretofore strong political fence.

Thomas Rasmus, of Rabun county, was bound over by Com. Gristen in Gainesville last week to the United States court for cutting up some harness belonging to some revenue officers during one of their raids in that county recently. Moonshiners will learn after awhile that it will not do to fool with Uncle Sam's men, horses or harness.

Georgia fares pretty well at the hands of the public buildings bill passed by congress. Brunswick and Columbus get $50,000 buildings and Macon a $58,000 structure. In addition $500,000 is appropriated for the federal prison at Atlanta. Georgia also comes in for a share of public money under the river and harbor bill, passed Saturday morning.

IS THIS YOUR STORY?

"Every morning I have a bad taste in my mouth; my tongue is coated; my head aches and I often feel dizzy. I have no appetite for breakfast and what food I eat distresses me. I have a heavy feeling in my stomach. I am getting so weak that sometimes I tremble and my nerves are all unstrung. I am getting pale and thin. I am as tired in the morning as at night."

What does your doctor say?
"You are suffering from impure blood."

What is his remedy?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

You must not have constipated bowels if you expect the Sarsaparilla to do its best work. But Ayer's Pills cure constipation.

We have a book on Paley and Weakness which you may have for the asking.

Mining Notes.

It is stated that the gold smelter will be started near Atlanta within the next thirty days, part to be ready to begin operation next fall. It will be erected on the Southern railroad eight miles from Atlanta, near the Chattahoochee river and will have a capacity of 200 tons a day. The smelter will cost about $75,000. It is not likely that any ore will be sent from the mines of Lumpkin county as it is too far to haul it before reaching the railroad.

The second session of the Southern Gold Miners' Association was held in Atlanta last Saturday, attended by a large number of mining men from all over North Georgia, making it one of much interest to those who search for the yellow metal. A permanent organization was formed, which will hold its annual meeting in Atlanta in December.

Capt. Asbury was in town this week who stated that work would be started in the gold mines above town on a big scale at an early day.

The Big Five in Anwar district, owned by J. E. Moore, of Dahlonega, and others, is undergoing prospecting with a view to erecting a stamp mill on the property at an early day. There are three lots—120 acres—all good mining property. Several excellent veins have already been opened up, convincing the owners that it will be a paying investment to put up proper machinery to work the mine.

The Atlanta Constitution of the 6th inst., in speaking of the Dahlonega mines says: "Dahlonega ore is not high grade as a rule, although the Finley shoot was one of the richest gold deposits ever found anywhere. That shoot was purposely lost years ago and has never been found again. The Doghead vein in Lumpkin has recently produced ore which ran $300 a ton."

As to the Finley shoot your correspondent is mistaken about it being lost. It has been worked since it was supposed lost and was abandoned on account of bad air. The shaft on this shoot is now down 350 feet and there has been some $2750.00 worth of gold taken out of it. The Doghead vein is now being worked. There are several hundred tons of ore on the dump, assay of the ore running from $22 to $800 per ton. These veins belong to the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co. They also have Haney shoot which is very rich. $1000 per ton has recently been taken from this shoot of free gold and the concentrates assay as high as $9,189 per ton. These rich ores are not being worked now because there is no method of treating the sulphides in Dahlonega. The Company is now getting ready to put up a chlorination plant when these rich ores will be treated.

Capt. Ingersoll, General Manager of the Dahlonega Con. G. M. Co., came in late Saturday night from Toledo, Ohio, where he had been to attend a meeting of the directors of the Company. While there the directors made a contract with the Gates Iron Works of Chicago, to put up a 60 stamp mill with chlorination plant, complete. Twenty stamps to be put in at once so the mill can be started by June 1st. The balance of the 60 stamps within six months. This Company now has a quantity of good ore on the dump ready for the new mill and have the mine opened up so that they will be able to keep 100 stamps running easy. This Company means business. We see from the Toledo News that since the price of the stock was advanced to 25c a share the sales have been rapid and the stock will probably soon be taken off the market.

A tramway is being constructed from the Singleton mill to the Dahlonega mine which will be completed to-morrow or Monday when they will begin to crush ore from this valuable property.

Mr. Hugh F. Vandever, of Knoxville, Tenn., the owner of the Capps mine, is here with a view of making arrangements to open up this property and put it into active operation. Mr. Vandever is accompanied by Mr. F. R. Hone, of Idaho Springs, Colorado, the superintendent of the New-home tunnel, one of the largest mining tunnels in the world. This gentleman comes to advise Mr. Vandever as to the best method of improving the Capps.

The mining outlook for the year is very encouraging. There are several good companies now ready to come here to engage in mining and are waiting for the weather to change and roads to dry up so machinery can be hauled to the mines.

At a meeting of the directors of the Dahlonega Con. G. M. Co. held at their northern office last week in Toledo, O., the resignation of Hon. W. A. Charters, as one of the directors of the Company, was accepted and C. H. Lewis, of Harpirt, O., was elected to fill the vacancy. Mr. Charters having been appointed attorney for the Company.

Six Old Men Find the Hidden Treasury.

Many years ago there was a rich gold mine discovered not very far from Dahlonega. The discoverers being unable to procure a lease on the property at that time covered up the vein where it has remained unknown to any one except those who found it until recently. Being unable to work it themselves they were determined that it should do no one else any good. In the course of time the property changed hands and those men were assured that they would be given a fair showing on any thing of value found by them on the property. At various times they went and searched for the hidden treasure but the bushes on the lot had become large trees since they discovered the vein, making such a change in the place that they could not find it. Many fruitless hours and days have been spent by the discoverers of this rich place in trying to find the spot. One day last week the parties, together with three other old practical miners, made a search for the hidden vein and succeeded in finding it in a very short time after commencing the search, where it had lay unexplored for a long number of years. When first struck the discoverers were scarcely grown, but since then the many long years had caused their heads to grow gray and the heavy weight of time bending their weary forms, bringing about a change in their appearance as well as things around this gold mine. The youngest of the six is 60 while the oldest is 93—C. M. Moore, of Lumpkin county, being the former, and Mr. Pinion, of Dawson, the latter.

After they had succeeded in their undertaking Mr. Pinion traveled almost as briskly as he did when young. He covered it two miles, keeping up with the rest of the party and jumped a ditch three and a half feet wide without any assistance whatever.

LUMPKIN SHERIFF'S SALES.

Fresh garden seeds at Halls.

Every thing points to a bright future for Dahlonega.

Largest, best and cheapest line of shoes at J. F. Moores.

Another cold wave here Tuesday. Thermometer stood at 4 degrees below zero.

G. W. Bruce and lady anticipate making a trip back West as soon as the weather becomes more settled.

Acy Crenshaw has resigned as postmaster at New Bridge and J. Martin has been appointed in his place.

Solicitor Charters is at Clarksville this week attending the Superior Court which convened there Monday.

One of our patrons said that it was almost like losing one of his children when he missed a copy of the NUGGET.

The painter will cease using his brush on the Barnside House shortly, and the building will be ready for occupancy.

Some of our side walks have been receiving a new coat of gravel, which is very acceptable to all those traveling them.

Don't fail to carry your produce to Halls and get bargains. They are clearing out their fall and winter goods at and below cost.

An interesting article will be found on the first page concerning the Calhoun mine in this county clipped from a British Columbia paper.

Last week during the several pretty days we had lumber was brought into Dahlonega from every direction, some of it came from White county.

Our farmers are complaining much about getting behind with their work on account of so much cold and wet weather which we have been having almost continuously for several weeks.

By referring to a letter from Martin's Ford district you will see that the stock law, which carried only about a week ago is already cutting the supply of milk short, besides causing neighbors to fall out. This is the fruits of the stock law.

Come to Halls to day and get all pork sausage in oil. Also fresh out meal, unconvanched hams and breakfast bacon. The finest patent flour in town, and pure lard and three lard, Arbuckle and Levering's coffee, and the best green coffee in the city.

By reference to Administrator's Sale on the 4th page you will find that some very valuable town property belonging to the Besser estate will be sold on the first Tuesday in April. This is a splendid opportunity for those desiring to locate in our town to procure desirable property.

We understand that the Huff mill over across the river has an order for three hundred thousand shingles from Capt. Hall. This means that there is going to be some more improvements made in Dahlonega when spring opens up. The Captain is a far seeing man and knows what he is doing.

We find that quite a number of our citizens are in favor of selling the paupers farm and putting the money in the treasury. There are numbers of people who no doubt suffer for the necessities of life, that ought to receive some assistance from the county but Judge Tate has made it a rule not render any unless they get the paupers home. This they won't do and if they get any help it comes from the citizens of the town. Some years ago the grand jury came near recommending this worthless farm and so called home to be sold. The next body, it seems it best should not hesitate to say so. It is no use paying a keeper who has no one to look after.

See sheriff's sales in this issue. Sweet potatoes, white beans and sour kweed at Halls.

Sugar cane syrup 35 cents per gallon at B. R. Meaders & Sons.

J. F. Moore has Dr. M. Ferry's seeds both in bulk and in packages.

The few beautiful warm days we had last week caused some of the early gardeners to go to work.

If you have any old school books which you would like to exchange for new ones carry them to J. F. Moores.

Look out for the cross mark on your paper. It means that we want to exchange the Nugget for more money.

We noticed Ed. Austin, col., working in the garden the other day with his Prince Albert coat on. There is nothing like being stylish.

Judge Tate has had the large columns at the court house touched up by the whitewashers brush which adds much to the appearance of the building.

I am now selling out every thing I have, consisting of household and kitchen furniture, bee gums, horse, wagon, buggy, sow and pigs, &c. Call at once.

W. H. Cook.

There is not a single tan yard in operation in Lumpkin county. Undoubtedly this industry would pay some of a handsome profit. Uncle Johnnie Seitz would have made money at the business and why can't others? All our hides now have to be shipped to Gainesville.

No county officers need to think that he can close the mouth of the editor of the NUGGET by intimating that we might lose our share of the legal sales. An officer is a servant of the people and when he fails to do his duty it is the duty of the people's paper to speak out, and the Nugget is going to do it. We are not playing a game of pleased or displeased.

Pink Turner, who has been sick for some time died at his home in Nimberville district last Monday morning. He was a clever man, good citizen and we regret his loss. He had some kind of a stomach trouble which inflamed, causing his death. He said when he first took his bed he would die. Dr. Jones exhausted all his medical skill to try to save his life but the time had come for his departure and he had to obey the summons.

Ralph, son of Thomas Beasley, residing a few miles above Dahlonega, has an afflicted leg which will doubtless cause his death. One side of one of his legs is swelled up until it is twenty inches round. Dr. Underwood, of White, who is treating it, so we understand, says that it is something new to him. It is said that the physicians would amputate his leg last Monday but Dr. Wheeler who went out to examine it, says that it is too late now he thinks.

Messrs. C. L. and L. R. Bryson, of Dawson county spent last Saturday with relatives in our town. Both of these young men used to go to college in Dahlonega. The former has been admitted to the bar and has his shingle hung out at Dawsonville, getting his share of the legal practice. The latter has been attending the medical college at Chattanooga, who, as soon as he takes the required course of lectures will go some where in the west to practice.

John Forest and his son-in-law Frank Little, had a difficulty the other day at the farmers home over on Yahoola, in which Forest was knocked down. The old mans two sons came to their fathers assistance and it was not long before they had Little burning the wind. They fell out about a note which was directed to Forest, telling him if he didn't treat his family better that he would be whipped with switches. Forest accused his son-in-law of writing it when the note was given by both resulting in the knock down and a race for life.

Buy your tobacco and snuff at E. S. Copelands. All fresh goods.

Complete assortment of fresh cannot goods just received at Halls.

A large lot of spring clothing of all sorts, sizes and prices at J. F. Moores.

As we go to press a telephone meeting is being held for the purpose of organizing.

Nice line of confectioneries, canned goods and crackers on hand at E. S. Copelands.

E. E. Crisson was compelled to take his bed a few days ago from a relapse of the grip.

At J. F. Moores you will find a nice line of silk umbrellas. Also an elegant line of dress goods.

Mrs. R. T. Baker has been very sick for several days, but we are glad to state is improving now.

For the best bargains in staple drugs, tinware, glassware, stationery, &c., call on E. S. Copelands.

Remember that we keep all kinds of Justice of the Peace blanks almost as cheap as you can buy the blank paper.

The names of the students promoted in the military department of the college are crowded out of this issue but will appear in our next.

D. S. Williams, of Cherokee county, spent last Saturday in Dahlonega with his brother, Hon. F. M. Williams, being his first visit here in seven years.

Work is progressing slowly on the Consolidated Co's store house on account of the unsettled weather. But little lumber can be had for two or three reasons. When it is not snowing or raining the roads are so bad that the teamsters cannot deliver the material.

Special Notice.—All persons indebted to us for last years business must make prompt settlement either in cash, produce or by note. We mean this.

THE FRANK W. HALL MDS Co.

Samuel Stambaugh, who resided in Dahlonega for some time several years ago, arrived in our town last Tuesday after an absence of thirteen years. His many warm friends here are glad to meet him. His home is now in Chattanooga.

W. H. Cook is selling out his household and kitchen furniture preparing to leave in a short time for Montana. Mr. Cook is better fixed than many who start out to a new country. He already has a home prepared for him with wheat and Irish potatoes planted, and has nothing to do towards making a crop but to begin where the other man left off.

J. M. McDonald, who lives down on the Yahoola Creek, less than two miles from Dahlonega, is one of Lumpkin county's most prosperous farmers, and one who is never idle. In the summer he makes corn and saves hay, a good deal of the latter to sell, and during the winter when not cutting briars he is clearing land and hauling the wood to town to sell. The result is he has plenty to live on and is not always complaining of hard times.

Late Sunday night some one fired off his pistol several times in our end of town, showing that the temperance meeting had no effect on him. Men who have no respect for God nor man should not only be dealt with by the town council but the Superior Court. Our town authorities are entirely too lenient on violators of the law. And if they can't catch up with them, no other way they should have an extra force Saturday and Sunday nights, and when catching one of these night prowlers engaged in violating the law should fine him heavy enough to pay all of the extra expenses and then bind him over to the Superior Court. This dollar and cost business don't amount to a hill of beans especially when the defendant is given his own time to pay it. If the custom is going to be continued the council had just as well disband and save the town the expense of having a marshal.

Full line of stoves, pots and skillets at Halls. Also all kinds of farming tools.

Professor and Mrs. Stewart entertained quite a number of their friends one evening last week. The supper was elegant and the occasion generally a pleasant one.

It seemed a little out of order last Monday to hear a spring bird singing while the ground was covered with snow and more falling.

The NUGGET is the people's paper. It is read by the high and the low, rich and poor, and those who have no education have others to read it to them.

Bear in mind that the devil has a well baited hook set for those who are too stingy to subscribe for their county paper and depend on their neighbors for the news.

Monday night Prof. Ansted delivered an interesting lecture at the college. The Professor was born and raised in Europe and had many things to tell us about the Old World.

Last week our farmers were expecting to commence plowing the first of this week but early Monday morning the snow began to fall and continued until it was about 2 inches deep.

New students continue to come in. The people of Georgia are convinced that this institution is doing a noble work for her sons and daughters, enabling all to get a collegiate education free of charge.

The Gaddistown mail which was due here Wednesday at 11 o'clock didn't arrive until 4. The carrier said that the snow was three feet deep on the mountain. The Ellijay mail didn't arrive at all, but this is nothing new on this route. The carrier won't travel when it is cloudy.

The little editor of the Signal last week intimated that we were induced by "our superior officers" to quit the populist party and voted the republican ticket. Admitting that we did we didn't treat the populist party, nor a single individual belonging to it like he did W. H. Burt during his campaign with Col. Charters. Little Billie even rode out to Mr. Burt's quantities of free liquor more than once, making the gentleman believe that he was one of his strongest supporters, and after helping to drink up all the stimulants the candidate had got mad because Mr. Burt wouldn't let him suck the stoppers to the jugs and on the day of the election walked up to the polls and voted for Col. Charters.

Special Entertainment.

An interesting entertainment will be given at the residence of Prof. J. S. Stewart to-morrow night, beginning at 7 p. m., to which all are invited to attend. Admittance is only 25 cents—no complimentary tickets will be given to any one, as the object of having it is to raise money to purchase a brace for Paul, the little six-year-old afflicted son of Rev. D. M. Edwards, who is now under treatment at the Grady Hospital in Atlanta. It will be a rich treat for you besides the money given will go for a worthy cause. The following is the program:

- PART I.
 - No. 1. Spanish Dances—Moszkowski. Mesdames Stewart and Cook.
 - No. 2. Recitation—Selected. Mr. Marshland.
 - No. 3. "Because I Love You Dear." Mrs. Cook.
 - No. 4. a. Recitations—Selected. b. Mr. Marshland.
 - No. 5. Bon Bon Waltzes—Rire King. Mrs. Stewart.
- PART II.
 - No. 6. Ah Me The Journey Is Long. Mrs. Cook.

Finest and largest line of spring and summer dress goods and notions ever brought to Dahlonega will be shown you next week at Halls.

The Dahlonega District Messenger has been enlarged to an eight page paper. The last issue was neatly printed and full of interesting news.

A rattle snake, having four rattles and a button was unearthed down at the Barlow on the 3rd inst., which was killed by John Walker, who was digging gold.

Had the rain held up just an hour or so last Saturday it could have been said that we had had one weeks clear pretty spring like weather for the first long before Christmas.

H. D. Gurley has on the way one of the largest stocks of dry goods, shoes, &c., that he has ever had. Announcement will be made in the NUGGET when they arrive. Keep an eye on its columns.

Presiding Elder Cook and family after being absent for more than a week at Demorest, returned last Friday. Mr. Cook didn't get to remain with us long however, until he had to start out again to perform his ministerial duties. This divine doesn't get to stay in Dahlonega one-fourth of his time but it is a pleasure for us to know that Dahlonega is this good man's home.

The scales of some of our merchants need adjusting. We went round on Saturday morning and weighed at ten different places in less than half an hour and found but few that were the same, and really we do not know our correct weight. At four stores we weighed 160 pounds, another 164, another 163, another 166, another 162 and at two places 162 1/2. Now which scales are right? It is not the intention of a single merchant to cheat any one for they use the same scales in buying and selling.

One day last week U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle went up into Chestatee district to destroy an illicit distillery which had been reported as being operated by Geo. Adams and others. But lo and behold when he reached the place he found that some one had destroyed it two or three days previous. He afterwards learned that Adams had been mistreating his wife and the woman went out with an ax and put an end to the concern which has caused her and her children to have less trouble and enjoy more real happiness since.

It seems that James Edmonson, who we mentioned last week as being arrested charged with cheating and swindling W. J. Burt, which case was compromised, divided his trade with J. T. Miller, of Auraria, and failed to come to time. Friday Mr. Miller swore out a warrant for Edmonson charging him with getting goods under false pretense, but when Sheriff Davis went for the defendant he was gone who may never be heard of any more. This is the result of a case that was compromised and shows why the legislature passed an act making it a penalty for Justices of the Peace to allow a case to be compromised after a warrant has been issued, but still some of these officers do it, knowing at the same time that they are violating the law, which will be continued until some of them are prosecuted—all on account of their eagerness for a little cash. Had this defendants first case last week not been compromised in all probability he would have been fixed so that he could have been made to answer to the second charge which would have been a warning to others. As it is he is gone, at liberty to dupe some body else.

Miss Blanch Gurley's Birthday Party.

On the evening of the 2nd one of the most delightful social gatherings of the season occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gurley, and was given in honor of their daughter Miss Blanch, celebrating her sixteenth birthday.

The arrangement of the "dining room was tasty and the elegant supper was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. After supper the entire party participated in a game of progressive caroms until a late hour.

The following young ladies and young gentlemen were present: Misses Maggie Crisson, Elizabeth Sherman, Maria Gaillard, Daisy Sherman, Maud McGuire, Lizzie Castleberry and Annie Palmour, Messrs. B. G. Parks, Henry Lumpkin, W. O. Flemming, W. J. McKee, W. M. Smith, H. L. Peacock and O. Palmour.

The entire evening was one of unalloyed pleasure and will long be remembered by the participants.

That Dreadful Cyclone.

The cyclone which swept through Georgia last Saturday night demolishing barns and houses and crippling and killing people, struck Lumpkin county, but fortunately no great damage was done here. About 10 o'clock the almost continuous lightning and thunder and unusual loud roaring in the elements did not take long to convince our citizens that it meant much danger, for the cloud looked angry and Dahlonega seemed to be in its direct path. But before it reached here it divided, forming two cyclones, one passing on either side of our town in a very few minutes, disturbing our citizens with only a common wind and rain storm.

The one that struck Will Hamps, near two miles from Dahlonega on Cane Creek, blew out the floor of the hall of his house, destroyed his crib and carried his wagon and a grind stone quite a distance, scattering things generally. During the storm Will called to his brother or John who was sleeping in the other end of the house, who arose and fell through the floor down into the cellar as he went out into the hall, but was not injured. A short distance from Hamps Rev. Taylor Dowdy's stable was blown down but his horse escaped injury. The next place it struck was at the Crescent Mine destroying or injuring nothing except the timber.

The other one which passed up Yahoola creek twisted off the timber about Geo. Duffs but injured nothing else in its path that we have heard of.

At Billy Dowdy's in Crumby's district, it did considerable damage to fences and outhouses, blowing a calf up into a shuck pen or shuck house.

It swept on and reached Toccoa at 10:40, just forty minutes from the time that it passed Dahlonega. At Toccoa it did much damage to houses, and killed Mrs. Mary Miller. It also did much damage at Lula. In fact every town it struck something was injured. Several buildings were damaged in Gainesville and Brown's Bridge across the Chattahoochee river was blown over.

At Madisonville, Tenn., many lives were lost. Jack Moser was hurled by the wind's force 700 yards until progress was impeded by a wire fence, which completely severed his head from his body.

W. G. Lampdin, of Louisville, Ky., an expert book keeper who has been in the employ of the Hall Mds Co. for several months, took his departure this week to accept a position in Atlanta. No clever gentleman ever came to Dahlonega than Mr. Lampdin and we all regretted to see him leave.

By referring to the law published on our first page you will see what kind of birds you are allowed to kill after the 15th inst.

The State has $757,749.65 in its treasury.

Had Bad Luck on a Pleasure Trip.

Some days ago, a certain married man who has been toiling for many months at hard labor, decided that he needed a little recreation and rest, and, "hanging up the fiddle and the bow," started down towards Auraria. Before traveling very far however, he procured a sufficient amount of liquor for the stomach to make him have a friendly feeling for every one he met, being full of fun and just as playful as a kitten, while wending his way towards our sister town Auraria, stopping at every house he passed. The last call he made was at the residence of a colored man. While talking to the man of the house one of his thirteen-year-old daughters came in. The friendly man ceased his conversation and jumped up and grabbed the girl by the head and began to yell "perree! perree!" He hadn't given more than two squalls before her grandmother floored him and lit on the helpless man like a chicken on a June bug, and would have disgraced him considerably had it not been for the girls father who had the old woman to dismount. This caused him to retrace his steps, repeating his calls upon the neighbors as he passed, which resulted in another woman knocking him down not far from where he got the first fall. Then he started for home and when he reached Cane Creek the water was out of the banks causing him to have to disrobe and wade, in order to reach his destination before night. When he got home he was perfectly sober. This ended his trip for rest and recreation.

Creeping Consumption

Do not think for a single moment that consumption will ever strike you a sudden blow. It does not come that way. It creeps its way along. First, you think it is a little cold; nothing but a little hacking cough; then a little loss in weight; then a harder cough; then the fever and the night sweats. The suddenness comes when you have a hemorrhage. Better stop the disease while it is yet creeping. You can do it with

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

You first notice that you cough less. The pressure on the chest is lifted. That feeling of suffocation is removed. A cure is hastened by placing one of Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster over the Chest.

Tender Recollections.

The balloon was tugging at its rope and bounding along clumsily in the puffs of wind. A widow stood regarding it with streaming eyes. She was alone, but a crowd gathered about her, attracted by her untimely tears. She sobbed for ten minutes, while the crowd restrained themselves, but at last an old gentleman, whose long white hair and saintly face declared his belief that he was privileged to thrust himself into anybody's business, stepped forward and said:

"Madam, why do you weep? Why, oh, these tears?"

The woman sniffed loudly and then replied:

"It's the balloon."

"But," queried the old gentleman, "why does the spectacle of a balloon cause you to weep? Did a loved son once perish as an aeronaut?"

"No," replied the weeper, "it wasn't a son—it was my husband."

"Ah, your husband was killed while ballooning?"

"No, he wasn't; my husband died in his bed, but he weighed twenty-one stones, and that jumping balloon reminds me of just how Henry looked the last time I saw him a duncing. His figure was like that," and the widow dissolved in a new burst of tears.

Little Willie Dons Dr. Jones' Coat.

Little Willie, the society news editor of the Signal and Dr. Jones' man Friday, devoted much space in the defense of the Doctor last week, asserting that there is no better citizen in Dahlonaga than the Doctor, which is untrue. Had this been a correct assertion the devil would have made Dahlonaga his headquarters many years ago.

After writing about one-fourth of a column himself he publishes a full one prepared for that paper and put it in as an editorial—taking all this amount of space to reply to an article of 45 lines in length which appeared in the Nugget of week before last in reference to the conduct of the Doctor who is trying to "root us out" of our present location and have us move merely for spite.

Billie is very much mortified at our manner of running a newspaper and is afflicted with so much grief that we almost imagine that we can hear the poor little fellow hoo-hooing now. Oh how sad he feels because we saw proper to speak out on this occasion.

The little editor says that the object of newspapers is to build up and not to tear down society, and quotes less than two lines of an article recently appearing in the Nugget about some married woman, which puts a wrong construction on the subject. Had he published all of the article it would have given another view. It is a great pity but what Billy had have thought about how to run a newspaper before writing that article about Goodman Beck (a poor man) and his family. If he aims to help build up society he should do so on all occasions. Not write in the interest of society when it comes to a friend, then fill up on liquor and get out in the streets and talk about respectable people like he did the other day—tell about a young lady putting her arms around his neck and calling him honey, causing him to relieve his pocketbook of $50 in one night.

Ladies, when you say anything to the little man in confidence give him a safety pin and tell him to fasten his lips when he gets on the war path next time, and advise him to keep it in position until he is able to practice what he preaches.

A Texan Rejoices With Us.

VALLEY MILLS, TEX.,

March 3, 1899.

ED. NUGGET:—Enclosed please find $1.00 for which you will send me your paper for one year, as your county is my old home county and I am acquainted with so many people in your town and county I would like to read your paper.

I admire your course in the recent stock law election there. The common people ought to be proud of you and your paper.

Yours respectfully,

E. A. Wilson.

Every body who has ever lived in old Lumpkin never forget the people here and always seem interested in their welfare and glad to hear from them. The other day we received letter containing a dollar from C. A. Tankersley, a young man who used to attend our College, living at the same place where Mr. Wilson resides. He too wanted to hear from the Dahlonaga people and especially the college where he had spent so many pleasant hours.

Tom Blodgett, who was convicted for larceny after trust at Cherokee Superior Court recently was carried to Fulton county chain gang last week to serve out a 12 months sentence.

Things a Baby Can Do.

It can beat any alarm clock ever invented for waking a family up in the morning. Give it a fair show, and it can smash more dishes than the most industrious servant girl in the country. It can fall down oftener and with less provocation the most expert tumbler in a circus ring. It can make more genuine fuss over a simple brass pin than its mother would over a broken back. It can choke itself black in the face with greater ease than the most accomplished wretch that was ever executed. It can keep a family in constant turmoil from morning till night, and night till morning, without once varying its tunes.

It can be relied upon to sleep peacefully all day when its father is down town, and cry all night when he is particularly sleepy. It may be the naughtiest, dirtiest, ugliest most fretful baby in all the world, but you can't make its mother believe it, and you had better not try it. It can be a charming and model infant when no one is around; but when visitors are present it can exhibit more bad temper than both of its parents together. It can brighten up a house more than all the furniture ever made, makes sweeter music than the finest orchestra organized, fill a larger space in its parents' breast than they knew they had, and when it goes away it can cause a greater vacancy and leave a greater blank than all the rest of the world put together.—Ex.

A woman preacher at Joplin, Mo., we are told, stopped in the middle of a sermon, and, picking up a Bible, said she was going to throw it at a man who was not good to his wife. As she swung her arm forward every married man in the church but one ducked under the seat; the one who didn't duck being a deaf-mute.

Twelve of the twenty-two members of the executive committee of the populists met in Atlanta one day last week, but transacted but little business. W. F. Carter Chairman of the committee, resigned. No one was elected to fill his place, and Vice Chairman J. R. Irwin now holds the lines.

Last week after the 16th immunes—all negroes were mustered out at Macon they shot and yelled at people at nearly every station they passed in returning home. At Griffin a number of them got their heads skinned.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured, of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by F. W. Hall Mdee Co.

Have You Heard of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palatable that almost everybody can take it. Nearly all children like it and ask for more.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

looks like cream; it nourishes the wasted body of the baby, child or adult better than cream or any other food in existence. It bears about the same relation to other emulsions that cream does to milk. If you have had any experience with other so-called "just as good" preparations, you will find that this is a fact.

The hypophosphites that are combined with the cod-liver oil give additional value to it because they tone up the nervous system and impart strength to the whole body.

Hello, Gainesville.

The stockholders of the Dahlonaga and Gainesville Telephone Company held a meeting in Price & Charters' office on the afternoon of the 9th inst, and elected its officers and directors. Capt. H. D. Ingersoll was chosen President Prof. J. S. Stewart, Secretary and R. C. Menders, Treasurer. The directors are Messrs. H. D. Gurley, W. A. Charters and J. F. Moore.

As soon as the organization was perfected, it was decided to go to work at once, and when the meeting adjourned they ordered several hundred posters printed and sent out the following day asking bids for six hundred posts to be opened on the 15th inst. Those receiving the contract are required to deliver the posts on the line as staked off within 20 days after it is closed with them, which shows that the Company means business, and that we will be talking to the citizens in Gainesville in a very short time.

The system will connect with Mr. Oliver's system at Gainesville, so that the merchants, professional men, and those having phones at their residences can stand at their own private phones and talk to people who have phones of the new system and talk to people wherever it is established. Gainesville is already connected with Athens by phone and one is soon to be constructed from Gainesville to Atlanta, which will enable the citizens of Dahlonaga to talk to any one in the three cities.

Is this be nice? Besides this Col. Farrow will extend the system to Porter Springs and during the summer we can converse with the guests of the Queen of the Mountains.

This enterprise will be of great benefit to our citizens. Twenty-five cents will be charged for a talk from here to Gainesville of either three or five minutes—Company hasn't decided which it will be yet.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, GA., MR. 17, '99.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

The small pox is steadily increasing in North Carolina.

The farmers all over Georgia are behind with their work.

Since the war commenced to free Cuba it has cost up to date about $500,000,000.

About 50,000 enumerators will be required to take the census, which will commence June 1, 1900.

Some of the Georgia farmers are now engaged in gathering last years cotton from their fields.

Reports from Manila are that the rebels make desperate stands but are routed by the Americans every time.

The war department has determined to muster out and bring home all the volunteers and immunes in Cuba.

Robt. Lewis the murderer of Charley Haynes in Atlanta was hanged last Tuesday. He had to be assisted to the scaffold.

The legislative committee appointed to investigate the geological bureau has submitted a favorable report, endorsing Prof. Yeates.

Fifty hundred cases of small pox have been officially reported in Laredo, Texas. The disease is widely prevalent at Washington city.

The city council of Jasper met the other night to elect a marshal but there was no applicant. That council is now very much like a kite without a tail.

The appearance of small pox in Buford last week caused the town to be almost depopulated for a while. The patient was sent three miles off into the country.

The Baptists of Georgia will begin their seventy-seventh annual convention in the First Baptist church, in Savannah, March 31. About 350 delegates will attend.

It is stated that the Wesleyan College at Macon has not been paying expenses and unless that city raises $50,000 for the institution it will be moved somewhere else.

Miss Myrtle Addington committed suicide in Union county recently because she was told that James M. Nicholson, her lover, was going to marry a young lady in Cleveland, Ga.

Judge Dick Russell of the North-eastern circuit says he is determined to stop people in his part of the country from carrying concealed weapons. He fines every man found guilty $100 and cost.

Utah has a Mormon Congressman, who has three wives and it is likely that an official of the Mormon church will be elected to the United States Senate. It is like the Columbus Enquirer Sun says, the Mormons are gaining strength.

A few days ago the little baby girl of Wm. Thomson, at Monticello died, and in a few hours afterwards his twenty-year-old son Willie died. The father when told that his son was dead said that he must lie down, and in twenty minutes he was dead.

A mad dog bit several of the fine hogs of Mr. T. J. Watts, in Thomas county, some time ago, and recently the bitten hogs have developed hydrophobia and begun killing each other. Watts had to kill a number of them with his rifle to keep them from destroying the whole drove.

The recent decision of the Supreme court goes to show that the efforts to build a new court house in Union county is illegal, and the extra tax collected for its construction will have to be refunded to the tax payers by the Collector. The county is without a court house and will remain so until steps to build one are commenced in a legal manner.

Bad Conduct of Negro Soldiers.

A dispatch from Raleigh N. C. gives the following additional account of the conduct of the mean negro soldiers who were mustered out of service in Macon the other day, while returning to their homes, clearly demonstrating to us that at the devil is a more proper place for them than in the army. It says:

"Between Atlanta and Monroe they shot Flagman Sam Sealy in the heel, inflicting a painful wound. At Monroe they raided the dispensary, carrying off some seventy five packages of whiskey.

At Henderson they came near killing an old white man named Crozier.

In Weldon, the last point at which they stopped in this state, their conduct was the worst. At the point of a pistol they forced John Battle, a worthy colored man, to drink seven glasses of whiskey. Battle fell down senseless soon after drinking the liquor and died before a physician could be summoned.

The riotous troops forced their way into stores and saloons, taking whatever they wanted.

They fired upon a switchman who failed to run at their command and spoke insultingly to those whom they met upon the streets."

Australian Ballot.

Rev. Sam Jones says: "There is not a member of the legislature in Georgia who has intelligence enough to milk a cow, and morals enough to be respectable in the chaingang, but who knows enough to know that Georgia ought to have the Australian ballot, and that such a law would do no harm except to the dirty politicians and red nosed rascals who want to perpetrate themselves in office or to keep barrooms in a city like Macon. Yet the legislature of Georgia met and mingled, discussed and drank, snorted and cavorted, and adjourned with a bill attached to the tail end of it for $68,000, more or less, services not rendered. But that same gang is coming back again. I don't know whether the temperance committee will continue to hold its sessions in the Big Bonanza or not. Speaker Little will still be the little speaker; and thus we go from year to year, with taxes increasing, cotton going down corn, half rotten in the field, oats all killed, peaches nipped in the bud, early wheat frost bitten, the monumental crime of 1873 still extant, calamity howlers all hoarse, and all drifting, it seems, between the devil and the deep blue sea. It may be that my liver is out of fix, or it is in fix there is a lot of things in Georgia out of fix, and my liver shan't stay out of fix if there is anything in the remedies."

Be Careful of Your Fire.

The last Legislature passed a law which intended to make the people of this state careful with their fire, especially in burning off the woods. An exchange calls attention to this law and gives a timely warning as follows:

For the information of those who have not kept up with the laws passed by the last Legislature, we call attention to the fact that a law was passed making it a misdemeanor and a heavy fine for any one to put out fire so as to burn off the fields of their neighbors, whether the fire gets out by intention or carelessness, and at the same time it provides for any damage such fire may do. We call attention to this fact just now, as it is about time people are starting out for another crop, and, as it is the custom to burn the grass off the field, to caution them that they should be careful and not let the fire get beyond the place intended to be burned.

Sometimes fire is set out in a field and gets beyond control and burns the field and woods for miles. Under the present law the one setting out the fire would be subject to be prosecuted by every man whose woods and field were burned, besides being responsible for any damage that might be claimed.

Dahlonega Gold Mines.

President J. W. Adams, of the Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining company, returned today from Toledo, Ohio, where he completed the contract for a sixty stamp mill to be built at Dahlonega, and a chlorination plant 120 stamps. These are to be built at once, the mill to be on the property known as the Hand mine.

The mill he said, is to be the finest in the south. As soon as it is completed another of the same size will be started on a different part of the property. Mill builders from all sections had their representatives in Toledo to meet President Adams and other officers of the company, and there was a vigorous competition to secure the contract.

President Adams stated that the company had leased one of the mines to Columbus Ohio parties, who will put a mill on it at once.

Another mine has been leased to Toledo parties, who will also build mills.

These facts only go to show the interest that is being taken in the scientific mining of Georgia gold.

Within the next thirty days it is expected that an excursion of about 150 people from Toledo and other Ohio and northern points, will visit Dahlonega to look over gold. They will travel in a special train, and take their own time for returning. An effort will be made to have the party stop off in Chattanooga a day or two and visit Lookout Mountain, Chickamauga National Military park, Missionary Ridge and other points of interest. —Chattanooga Correspondence Knoxville Journal.

DAYLONEGA, GA., MR. 17, '99

Dove hams at G. McGuire's.
Two pounds canned tomatoes at H. D. Gurleys for 7c.

L. M. Coffee has moved back to Dahlonega from Forsyth county.

Miners in search for gold will find prospecting picks at J. F. Moores, while farmers can get cow bells there.

J. H. Moore went down to Dawson county first of the week to buy a lot of beef cattle, and he got them and is supplying our citizens with fine steak now.

Nellus Gundlock went down to the Hand mine sporting the other day and got to shooting J. H. Jenkins' pigeons. The owner came up and gave his name to Mayor Price.

Most any of our merchants can afford to sell you goods at ten percent profit if you will spend fifteen or twenty dollars at a time like some do when they are trading in Gainesville. Try them and see and then if they refuse, spend your money where it will do you the most good.

Several suggestions have been made to us about how to run a newspaper. We have listened to all very attentively and with much interest for the ideas are so amusing to us. But none of their suggestions suits us and we are still going to run the NUGGET to our own notion and if it displeases any one they are not compelled to take the paper.

Mr. C. S. Marsland, of Manchester, England, who has been in Dahlonega for several weeks accompanied by his wife and little son, went out to the mines, a few miles from town, where they have located so that the gentlemen will be convenient to his interests. These clever people have made many friends during their stay in Dahlonega, all of whom would have preferred them remaining in our city could they have conveniently done so.

The citizens in the neighborhood of Cavender's creek mine, are hoping that they will be able to get a post office out there. It is right on the line of the Porter Springs line and would not cost the government anything extra. Besides this the anticipated telephone line from Dahlonega to Porter Springs will pass right by there and those interested say that they will help Col. Farrow build it to Porter in order to have a connection made at the place so as to keep posted in everything of interest that is going on all along the line.

Marshal Worley went off last Saturday on a kind of a pleasure trip into the country without getting permission from the mayor, although making arrangements with ex-marshal Bruce to keep things straight until he returned. On Tuesday, finding that they were going to prefer charges against him he resigned and Mayor Price appointed Mr. Bruce to fill his place until the council convened, which is in session as we go press and from what we can gather H. L. Blackwell will be elected. Mr. Worley said that he could not afford to assume the responsibilities for the small salary allowed, is why he sent in his resignation.

The other day Dan Smith and "Buck" Evans, who live in the same house down at the Barlow mine, had a little misunderstanding and talked about fighting, when Barney Brackett had a few remarks to make in favor of Dan Smith. Not a flick was struck or either as much as scratched, but Evans swore out a warrant for both Brackett and Smith. Then Brackett swore out one for his antagonist and all were arrested by Sheriff Davis and carried before Justice Allen last Tuesday. After investigating the cases both the defendants were discharged, each one having a small bill of cost to pay.

A. J. Dockery, who lives near the foot of Blood Mountain, while in renewing his subscription to the NUGGET last week, stated that he had killed two wild cats and nine turkeys during the last two snows. The cats had killed many of his sheep.

The members of the Blue Mountain Lodge of Masons have been invited to attend the Masonic ceremonies which will be performed over the grave of James Barron in Dawson county on the third Sunday in April. The ceremonies could not be performed at the time of his burial on account of the inclement rains.

Our friend E. P. McGee, brother to merchant McGee, of Dahlonega, has moved from Quebec, in Union county to Gaddistown and gone into the mercantile business. Fulton Williams was doing business there but he has retired and is now studying "wisdom," as Joe Parker used to say until the weather gets better and the whippoorwill informs him by his familiar song that Spring has come.

Wednesday the game law went into effect and a negroes neck was killed to be broke at Gainesville. Although all legal hangings are refused now in Georgia several went from this county just to be in town while it was taking place. But when they reached the city they learned that the Governor had caused the hanging to be postponed until the 29th inst. Giving him ample time to go crazy. Who knows but what he will finally land in the asylum?

Dock Glenn and Dan Wheelchel, two negroes, were bound over last Saturday and carried to Atlanta Sunday, charged with working in that settlement still which was destroyed in Martin's Ford District some time ago, making eight who have already been before the court for being concerned in it, and it is said that there are about eight more still to be arrested. From what we learn the trouble will finally wind up by one of the main witnesses against some of the defendants being prosecuted in Lumpkin Superior court for having recently retained liquor. So this is the way it generally results.

Some days ago Bill Woody, of Davis' district, was bound over to the Superior Court, charged with stealing a hog belonging to one of the Odums. It seems that they had some hogs just alike running out in the mountains. Woody went out, caught and marked a hog which he says and thinks is his, when the other man found it out he secured a warrant with results as above stated. Since he has changed the mark to his and now has it at home in the pen. What will be the final result we can not even guess at as Woody has witnesses to swear that it is his and the other party has already sworn that it belongs to him.

Rev. D. M. Edwards, being notified that his little son, who is at the Grady Hospital in Atlanta, was not doing so well, left for that city last Sunday. Mr. Edwards returned Wednesday who states that his son is better. Paul will have to stay in the hospital not less than three or four weeks longer. Mr. Edwards will arrange to return to Atlanta and spend a week or two with him. We are glad to learn that Paul's case is yielding to treatment fairly well and Dr. McRea now has hopes of saving his limb with even chances of not having the hip joint permanently stiff.

J. W. Adams, President of the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co., arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon.

J. F. Moore has just received a large stock of dry goods, notions, clothing, and nicest line of ladies silk waist coats ever brought to Dahlonega.

Senator Underwood was in the city a short while the other day shaking hands with his friends. He did not go as far out of the way to grip a fellows' hand as he did during the campaign but is so social enough in an off year in politics like this.

Old man Lackey, who draws a pension, was down last week consulting an attorney about the way he got rid of his check. He claimed that he had been trading with merchant Bart, residing at Burt'sboro, who took the check and credited it on the pensioner's account, keeping more of the money than he wanted him to have. The old man says that he will put the matter before the grand jury.

The bids were opened for posts by the Dahlonega and Gainesville Telephone Co. last Wednesday but all four were rejected as the lowest was about 70 cents a post. It was decided to reduce both the size and the length to 5 inches at small end and 22 in length and receive the bids the following day for both the posts and digging of the holes. Yesterday they were opened and the contract awarded to Frank and Clyde Meaders. The posts are to be delivered within 20 days and the holes have to be dug within 30.

Last Monday the Decora Society went into election of a chairman for their open debate. John V. Arrondale was elected but refused to serve. The next man in order, was B. G. Parks, served. Monday night at the debate W. M. Smith and S. H. Parr declined. The subject, "Resolved, That the execution of Charles I., of England was justifiable" was debated on the affirmative by S. A. Harris and J. M. Prance, and on the negative by H. L. Peaceck and A. H. McCleskey. Decision in favor of negative. The debate was excellent and a large crowd was present to hear it.

A few months ago Ben Harris, who had been book keeping in Atlanta, visited his mother who resides in Dahlonega and after remaining several days returned to that city. Soon afterwards he secured a job in Charleston, S. C. After remaining there a while he notified his relatives in Dahlonega that he would return to Atlanta. His trunk was received and his mail was forwarded to Atlanta according to his instructions to the post master. Ben left Charleston but has never been heard of since and that has been more than two months ago. Many letters of enquiry have been written by his relatives here to persons in that and other cities who knew him but none of them know anything about him except that he left Charleston. His mother and other relatives in Dahlonega are very uneasy about his mysterious appearance.

Last Wednesday morning the Chestate river rose so that it endangered the Bureh boat, causing them to blow the distress whistle, notifying all hands to come at once and make it secure. The blowing of this whistle generally causes nearly all who never heard it to be alarmed, especially when it is in the night time, creating a good deal of laughter when the scare is over. Last year, when Leon Bruce was first elected marshal, they turned it on once night and the officer ran way over to Park Spring in a drenching rain, and there is no telling where he would have gone to in his diligent search had he not met a man who knew and told him what it was. Then at another time during court week, Uncle Cale Seabolt who was here from Chestate district, was aroused from his slumbers, who after looking under the bed and searching under the floor, got a ladder and went up into the loft.

We understand that no wild lands will be advertised to sell for taxes for last year on account of so many errors occurring on the receivers book. Leading attorneys have advised the collector to pursue this course until a more correct list of those returning their property can be had this fall.

We stated last week that the physicians would not likely amputate the leg of Ralph Beasley, but after conversing with Dr. Wheelchel he rallied and Drs. Jones and Wheelchel, of Dahlonega, and Dr. Underwood, of Cleveland, met and took it off just above the knee. It was certain death to let it remain and it may be that he will die yet from the effects of the disease.

Thursday last week a wedding, clearing, log rolling, rail splitting and quilting occurred at the home of "Little" Fate Seabolt in Chestate district. His daughter, Miss Lizzie, and Mr. Jess Staniel were the contracting parties. About two hundred people were present, being the largest body of people that has gathered on an occasion of this kind in Lumpkin county for many years.

In last weeks paper we stated that the first case against Jim Edmonson was allowed to be compromised by the Justice after issuing the warrant, which statement had been made to us. Squire Worley informs us that it is not true. He says that Mr. Burt, who swore out the warrant, refused to prosecute the case any further after Edmonson turned over the goods. We make this correction with pleasure in justice to Squire Worley.

The other night when the cyclone passed through Davis' district it blew open the door of Jasper Satterfield's residence and burst a hole through the roof and passed out like a cannon ball. And down at Ed. McDonald's, near town, it made a large quantity of home made lye soap from a keg which was in the smoke house and never displaced the vessel, only moving the building slightly. Quite a number of people have been there to see it since the storm, finding plenty of soap, but it is scattered all over the ground in the building.

Judge Tate anticipates remodeling the interior of the court house and having it in good shape by the time the Judge comes. This is a move in the right direction. Judge Estes has been reprimanding the ordinaries of some of the other counties about the condition of their public buildings. Let our ordinary continue his improvements and give the Judge no room for complaint on his arrival here to discharge his official duties. We should all take a pride in our public buildings and keep up with the progressive age.

John Elrod, one of the parties who is in jail here charged with arson, threw a stick of wood at his companion the other day (so the latter says), and when the sheriff went in the prisoner crawled under the bed and wouldn't speak. The officer had Dr. Wheelchel go out and see if the troubled man was either sick or crazy. The Doctor soon found out the prisoners object in acting so strangely, who recovered without the use of any medicine and converses now as freely and with as much sense as he ever did. John hasn't got money enough to go crazy. He will have to stand the storm and go to the chain gang instead of the asylum if proven guilty.

Mayor Price was housed up several days last week by sickness.

Prof. Vickery was on the sick list last week and unable to attend to his college duties.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle has been engaged in summoning witnesses to attend the U. S. Court in Atlanta. We are glad to note that there are not as many cases from Lumpkin county as usual.

We are glad to learn that our friend Bill Scott, who it was believed recently would never get well of his present spell of sickness, has recovered so that he can walk about the house a little.

Mrs. L. Q. Meaders and her little son Lou, have gone down to Ringgold, to live with Mrs. Smith, the mother of Mrs. Meaders. This lady has been afflicted with rheumatism for years and had to be hauled to Gainesville in a hack on a bed.

J. L. Edge, who has been working for the Southern Art Co. some five or six months, came in and had his name enrolled on our subscription list last Saturday, and of course it is natural now for us to wish John better success in his business than ever.

A gentleman who has recently been over in Union county says he saw a house which was built and is now occupied by James Gooch, being a story and a half and the walls are only five logs high, proving that Union county has some of the largest and finest timber that can be found any where.

Mrs. D. T. Simmons died in Omer, Okla., on the 4th inst. Mrs. Simmons was a daughter of Jasper Gaddis, deceased, who has a large number of relatives and a host of friends in both Lumpkin and Union counties to mourn her loss. We deeply sympathize with the bereaved husband in his hours of loneliness and distress.

Jap Williams and John Moore attended Justices Court in Yahoola district last Saturday in which court they had brought some civil suits against parties in that district. Both these plaintiffs represented their own cases and it is said that the echoes of eloquence falling from their lips can still be heard in the mountains around old Yahoola jaw ground.

D. M. Coldwell, a Lumpkin boy county, who is working for a portrait company, is doing a successful business. He goes prepared and when he finds a person not having a photograph or tin type picture of themselves, he soon takes one and in a short time a natural, neatly framed picture is delivered for a reasonable sum. His Company enlarged one of ours that looks so natural that it seems like it ought to talk, which of course is a beauty.

We call our readers attention this week to the ad. of H. D. Gurley to be found on the opposite page. Mr. Gurley keeps a general and well assorted stock of goods on hand all the time and sells as cheap as the cheapest. He has been doing a successful business right here in Dahlonega continuously since the year 1875. He pays cash for his goods on delivery, saving all discounts, the benefit of which is given to his customers, and his long experience in business enables him to know what to buy in order to supply their wants. Give him a call.

The entertainment last Saturday night was given at the college instead of the residence of Prof. J. S. Stewart. The hall was filled and every body was highly pleased with the program and the manner in which it was carried out. The proceeds amounted to $52.45 which went for the benefit of Rev. D. M. Edwards' little son Paul, who is now under treatment in the Grady Hospital in Atlanta, for the purchase of a brace to be used in the effort to straighten and cure his leg. The people of Dahlonega are always willing to help the distressed and were never known to turn a deaf ear when the afflicted were knocking at their doors.

Mining Notes.

It will be seen by a correspondent of the Knoxville Journal that a party of about one hundred capitalists and mining men are anticipating visiting Dahlonega, who are expected here as soon as the weather moderates.

Col. S. M. Wharton, owner of the celebrated Calhoun gold mine, returned a few days ago after being absent at his home in Spokane for several weeks. The Colonel spent Friday and Saturday in Dahlonega after which he returned to the Calhoun where he has a large force of hands engaged in making the necessary improvements so as to have the mill in operation at an early day.

Mr. Thies, son of Capt. A. Thies who resided in Dahlonega many years ago, was here again last week making an investigation of the Jumbo and other mining properties! It may be that Mr. Thies will become more interested in the near future.

Some four or five thousand feet of heavy oak timbers are being delivered at the iron tave across Yahoola creek above Wimpy's mill, belonging to the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co., which conveys water to various mines, to take the places of the decayed material which holds up the large tube.

The object of Mr. Samuel Stanbough's visit mentioned in last week's NUGGET, is to re-open a number of valuable veins on the Keystone property in which he has an interest, located a mile or so south of Dahlonega, containing some twelve or thirteen lots, which is amply supplied with water necessary for all mining purposes. Mr. Stanboughs bad health has prevented him from doing this any earlier.

The 60 stamp mill site and clo-fination plant, to be erected by the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co., was surveyed and staked off last Wednesday.

We were shown a beautiful specimen of ore last Wednesday taken from a four foot vein recently discovered at the Big Joe. It is thought that a ton like the rock shown us would be worth about $5,000.

The tramway from the Singleton mill to the Tabloneka mine, spoken of as being constructed last week, was completed and the car put on the track Saturday afternoon.

The five stamp mill on the Stewart property near Antaria, was set to running Thursday last week. The owner has every thing arranged so that he can add five more whenever he deems it necessary. We do not know what experience the owner has in mining but if he has a fair knowledge of the workings from what we learn this mine will pay well.

Mr. Walker was intending to have the mill running at the Crescent mine by next Monday but the weather has been so bad that he may not succeed in doing so before the first of next month.

Mr. Pope, of Atlanta, has been looking over some mining property here this week in company with Mr. Thies.

The deposit miners generally complain of not having enough water, but for the past few weeks they have had too much.

The Savannah morning News in speaking of the Georgia mines says: "The gold mines of Georgia have been neglected for many years. If the development of them had been continued from the time that gold was found in paying quantities in them until the present time, it is probable that Georgia would now be considered one of the leading gold producing states. But the mines were abandoned when gold was discovered in California, and mining on a large scale has never been renewed. Those who have a pretty fair knowledge of the gold bearing section, however, are satisfied that the low grade ores, which are generally found there are sufficiently rich to pay a very big profit, if properly worked."

If you want the news while it is new and fresh send for the NUGGET.

The new school house is receiving its first coat of paint which makes it quite attractive.

Since the weather has somewhat moderated the commercial drivers keep the roads hot.

G. W. Bruce intends moving the old Joe Parker dwelling farther away from the street and repairing the same.

If you need any visiting cards either printed or blank, you will find them at the NUGGET office cheaper than at any place in town. Also type writing paper lower than you can get it in Atlanta.

Geo. W. Thompson, residing at Burtswboro, ten miles distant, walked here in the rain last Saturday to renew his subscription to the NUGGET. He says that he likes the paper and his acts show that he does.

A gentleman who went out to church last Sunday fell in company with another gentleman who had three eggs chickens, and they got so interesting about the chickens that they both left the church during services to see the fowls.

What's the use of going to the city of Gainesville for your wife a pair of shoes when you can get them in the town of Dahlonaga for 75 cents? And why send down there for a chopping ax when you can get a good one here for 45 cents?

Uncle Alfred Herrington, of Porter Springs, has just lending his Nugget, but stands up on a stump in the yard and reads it to some of the neighbors every Sunday morning while they sit and listen with much interest. By doing this he gets to keep his paper at home.

Does Your Back Ache?

In constant pain when on your feet?
Is that dragging, pulling sensation with you from morn till night?
Why not put the medicine exactly on the disease. Why not apply the cure right to the spot itself?
You can do it with

Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral Plaster

Immediately after the Plaster is applied, you feel its warming, soothing influence. Its healing remedies quickly penetrate down deep into the inflamed tissues. Pain is quieted, soreness is relieved and strength imparted. No plaster ever made like it. No plaster ever acted so quickly and thoroughly. No plaster ever had such complete control over all kinds of pain.

Placed over the chest it is a powerful aid to Ayer's Cherry Pectoral; relieving congestion and drawing out all inflammation.

The Charity of Silence.

An esteemed contemporary dives down into a well of truth and brings this pearl of the first water up. "The man who gets mad at what the newspaper says about him should return thanks three times a day for what the papers know about him and don't say."

Undoubtedly there are those who have a genuine grievance against the newspaper, but they are few. As a rule, as The Memphis Scimitar says, when a man is heard declaiming against the press animus may be ascribed to one of two causes—either he has asked a favor of some paper and has been refused, or he or some relation or friend of his has been detected in some discreditable action and the facts have been published. If the press made a habit of hunting up and printing scandals about private persons, as these disgruntled persons allege, there would be weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth in many families where all is apparently serene.

There is always enough of that sort of thing float to fill a column or two, and the papers are often blamed for not printing it, the criticism usually coming from persons who have a private grudge to feed the exposure of one or more of the parties to the scandal.

Few newspapers take any satisfaction in publishing such matter and the greater majority of them refrain from using it until it becomes legitimate news item and can no longer be ignored.

The stories that are suppressed in the average newspaper office out of consideration for the feeling of innocent parties who would be grieved and humiliated by the publication of them, would fill a good size column every year.—Augusta Herald.

The Mayor of Macon is furnishing every poor person in that city a paper who is unable to subscribe for one.

A Letter From A Lumpkin County Soldier.

CAMP TAYLOR,
SANCTI SPIRITUS,
March 17, 1899.

ED. NUGGET:—

I thought I would write you and let you know what kind of a country this is. We, the 4th Tennessee Regiment of Volunteer Infantry, commanded by Col. Harvey H. Hannah, who was educated at the N. G. A. College, are situated about two miles from Sancti Spiritus. We are all well, cheerful and gay. We have heard news from the States telling us that we are to be recalled and our places filled by regulars.

Sancti Spiritus is a city of about 15,000 people, situated in about the center of the province of Santa Clara. The city is populated almost wholly by white people, but there are dark spots to be seen in the suburbs.

We don't have much to do as the people are orderly, well behaved and kind. There has been no crops here in four years but preparations have been made to plant in the spring. There are huge plantations and sugar machinery lying idle, but before a year they will be operated again.

We have visitors from the states here very often—newspaper men and capitalists—looking for a good thing. I think there has already been several trades made.

Green corn, beans, peas, cabbage and tomatoes can be raised here all the year round. Sugar and tobacco seem to be the principal product. There is a fine variety of sweet potatoes growing wild. There is a lot of fruit here. Oranges, bananas, lemons and coconuts seem to be the principal ones. I think that this is the garden spot of the world and I also think a good place to locate.

There are no hogs or sheep here at all and only a few cattle and goats. Meat is very high. Bacon 26 cents a pound, hams 20, and beef 33 cents. Game chickens are here, the finest I ever saw. Eggs are 5 cents a piece and to have one fried ten cents. Don't grumble about Georgia prices no more.

The whole regiment is very proud of its Colonel, who has a host of friends in your vicinity, for when at school he boarded at the Burnside House. The proprietor was Mr. Allen. Hoping you will excuse my grammar I will now close.

Yours Respectfully,
WM. B. JONES,
Co. E. 4th Tenn. U. S. Inf.

It seems that there will be no peaches in Georgia this year.

The government now has 2,500 mules and horses, mostly mules at Macon.

Three fine steamboats were burned at Columbus the other day. Loss estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000.

Bishop Turner in a lecture to his colored friends at Thomaston the other day, said that his race should not fight for America, as it is not their country.

A bill passed the Arkansas legislature making it a penalty of not less than $500 nor more than $5,000, to manufacture, sell or give away cigarettes to any one in that state.

A statement issued by the Adjutant General shows that the total number of deaths in the army reported to his office between March 1898, and Feb. 28, 1899, was. Killed in action, 326; died of wounds, 125; died of disease, 5,277; total, 5,728.

The Foot Log Put Up,

Many of the readers of the Nugget doubtless remember reading an editorial in the paper in reference to Wash Rider being fined $5.00 by the road commissioners of last year for refusing to put up a foot log where the commissioners instructed him to. Rider paid up the cost, claiming that he was going to carry the case up to the Superior Court. The commissioners time expired shortly afterwards and the fine against Rider is now in the ordinary's office. The new road commissioners of Hightower district appointed Hiram Cronan overseer of the same road for this year and ordered him to put up the foot log. This shows that the old commissioners were right. Wash Rider was a hand and was called upon by the overseer to help put up the log. Rider refused to obey the overseer and is now a defaulter. He will be returned to the new commissioners who will dispose of his case.

It seems that Rev. J. W. Rider has sanctioned the conduct of his son, as quite a quarrel occurred between the preacher and Mr. Cronan in which the divine had his knife open and was snapping the blade in his hand. Mr. Cronan advised preacher Rider to close his knife as he was not afraid of him and his son.

W. M. SIMMONS.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—JOSH. EDGAR, Germantown, Cal. For sale by W. Hall Mide Co.

The Champion Rat Trapper.

George Stanton is the champion rat trapper. The mice and rats got so troublesome at his house that he prepared his trap and in about a week captured six rats and twenty-five mice—caught six mice at one time in the same trap. One of his aunts has been annoyed of late by what was supposed to be a large rat, that she called on George for help. He set his trap and every one felt that the rat was doomed. When the trap was heard to fall, it was carried out, the dog, Weaver, standing ready to dispatch the rat, which he did in a twinkling. The boys picked it up and found that it was a flying squirrel. The trap was set again the same night and another squirrel caught, but the boys were so anxious to see it before it was killed that they held the dog a moment, when the squirrel gracefully flew to a tree top and is yet at large. The family are now of the opinion that there are several more of these little rodents lodging with them.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

A Champion's Testimony.

A champion cyclist was asked: "Do you ever take spirits of any kind? I mean whiskey or brandy."

"No; they cut the breath short. You can't race and take brandy. It may help a little, but it leaves you worse. I believe that if five or six men were together in a race, say two miles from the tape, and one was handed a drink of brandy, it might let him break away and win easily; but if he had ten miles, or had a long race before him, he would find great difficulty in riding. His breath would be cut short. The man who drinks brandy or whiskey will soon be broken-winded."

"So you don't believe in brandy."

"No; it may help for a short sport, but it is no good for a long run. Only a temperate man can be a good racer."

The old convict lease expires tomorrow and the 2,500 convicts will be turned over to the state, and will then be hired to the nineteen bidders who made contracts some months ago. The women, all males under 15 years of age and all indigent and infirm convicts will be sent to the prison farm at Milledgeville to make corn, cotton and oats. For 20 years the state has been leasing the convicts for $25,000 per annum, which after taking out salaries only $17,000 go into the treasury. The new system will net the state $125,000 per year.

Rev. E. Edwards, pastor of the English Baptist Church at Minersville, Pa., when suffering with rheumatism, was advised to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. He says: "A few applications of this liniment proved of great service to me. It subdued the inflammation and relieved the pain. Should any sufferer profit by giving Pain Balm a trial it will please me." For sale by F. W. Hall Mide Co.

Pulling Out a Tooth.

The modern dentist, who was undoubtedly intended for a blacksmith takes you into an upstairs office and seats you at a front window, as he says, for light; you know that he is in league with the man across the street, who from an opposite window, is studying your digestive economy, and who seems to have wagered that the dentist couldn't get his fist quite down your throat.

And this is the way he pulls your tooth.

"Take this chair, please. Now, which tooth?"

"This one."

"Ah, yes—"

"Ow-oh-oh! The other one!"

"Well, then, just a little wider—there now."

Rasp—punch—scrape—

"O—oh—ooh!" and you break loose and exasperate.

"Mercy," you gasp, "wouldn't it be less painful to blow it out with gun powder?"

"Nonsense—open your mouth!"

"Take me for the 'African sword-swallower!'"

"Little wider!"

Gurgles—gasp—

"Ouch! that's killing me!"

"Just one more pull—now!"

There was no court in Union county last fall on account of the county being without a court house, but we understand that the defendants will be disappointed this time as Judge Estes has written the authorities that he will hold court if he has to convene it in the woods.

Mining Notes.

Fate and Tom Johnson, deposit mining down on the Tree, finished their clean up Friday, making 55 dwts., including a two-dwt. nugget.

Last Saturday while Lyman Wheelchel was working the street which runs by the Nugget office he picked up a small rock showing gold.

Capt. Ingersoll, who visited White last week says that there is a great revival in the mining industry of that county, all the mines doing well.

For several days they have been surveying tramways from the different veins on the Hand mine property to the site of the 60 stamp mill and chlorination plant, which construction will commence soon.

Wash Jenkins and Elijah Beck are now working the street mine near the Lewis Meaders place in Dahlonega, which is showing up well. The vein is about ten inches in the bottom. Eight tons this week made $86.50.

The Singleton mill has been moving right a head on ore from the Tabloneka mine since the completion of the tramway and the plates are said to be showing up well. Underground work is still progressing on the Singleton property.

Big and successful business seems to be going on at the Hamby mine in White county. About thirty hands are already at work there and they sent down this week for six more of Lumpkin's experienced miners to join them.

James Davis, James Rice and Wm. Hamp are still working on Tan Yard Branch in old works, part of the time in the tailings that were washed from the Kentaucky mill. They have made three clean ups this month, averaging one dollar per day each and found one three-dwt. nugget.

R. W. Walker has his new ten stamp mill at the Crescent mine moving right along which commenced last Friday in the presence of two of the professors of the college—Vickery and Palmour. Prof. Palmour started the machinery to moving without the use of an electric button while his companion threw in the first shovelful of ore and the machinery has been doing its work well ever since.

Mr. Samuel Stanbaugh now has a number of hands engaged in developing the Keystone property in which he has an interest. The last deposit mining done on this property paid $180 per week for four hands, while there are numbers of valuable veins already discovered which would pay handsome dividends if they had a mill on the property. If the rest of its owners are willing a mill will be erected on the property at an early day. This property has lay dormant for more than fourteen years and a good deal of work will be required to clean out the pits and tunnels so as to re-open the veins.

B. W. Brown and Henry Boartfield, after cutting a tunnel about 160 feet down at the Lockhart have struck the large bed of ore which had been discovered in a shaft and worked as long as it could be done so profitably in this manner, as those acquainted with mining know that it is a hard undertaking to work a gold mine by shaft unless it is supplied with necessary machinery. This tunnel enables them to work the vein cheaply, without an outlay of a single dollar for machinery. Mr. Brown and Mr. E. E. Crisson are now partners—the former takes out the ore and the latter hauls and mills it and gives Mr. Brown half the gold. Mr. Brown thinks he has a years profitable work in sight, as the various arms of ore are large and valuable.

It looks like enough has already been said and written concerning the mines of Lumpkin county, saying nothing of the large quantities of gold that have been unearthed, to convince miners and capitalists that this is a good section and her mineral resources a safe investment for capital. Every expert who has visited Dahlonega and made an examination of the mines go back with a favorable report, and Prof. Yeates, the State Geologist, who has made a thorough test, and paid by the state to make a true and impartial report, in reply the other day to a question as to whether the proposed 60 stamp mill and chlorination plant by the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co. would pay or not said, "The rich ore which had been found in some of the mines of the company was phenomenal and that the finds fully warrant in, my opinion, the erection of a sixty stamp mill."

Frank Rider Talks About Central America.

J. F. Rider, who has recently returned from Central America, was in our office one day last week relating many interesting things concerning that country.

Frank left Dahlonega during the month of August 1897 in company with W. R. Crandall and lady. They located at Miramar, Costa Rica, where the gentlemen engaged in mining from the time they arrived until they departed about the first of March—Mr. Crandall stopping in St. Louis and Mr. Rider returning to his home near Dahlonega.

Our visitor reports the country a good mining section, weather warm and pleasant as any country where the thermometer never changes more than ten degrees during the year round. Snows and frosts are unknown in that country. Some of the natives are good miners he says, but won't work much more than half their time, the other is consumed in drinking and feasting.

It costs but little.

The town council decided this week that street hands must either work themselves or pay the money into the treasury. It is said that they need some money to pay on the public school debt. Street tax cannot be used for any other purpose except for what it is levied, but it is like putting the fellow in jail—they have or will do it. So we can't expect much improvement on the streets this year unless it is about some of the councils premises.

To-morrow is all fools day. Clerk Wallace is getting his of fee in shape for court.

Revs. C. W. Stargel and Jonathan Gilreath will preach the funeral of Mrs. Jackson Lee at Yahoola church on the third Sunday in April.

There are ten or twelve saw mills within an area of ten miles of Dahlonega, and still builders are forced to buy much of their dry lumber in Gainesville.

Mrs. G. McGuire, who left for Marble Hill last week to visit her sick mother—Mrs. Hayes—has not returned yet as the lady is dangerously ill and not expected to live.

We understand that a lady dressed up the other night in a mans suit and went out in search of her unfaithful husband who she expected to catch at his lovers house, but he was not there.

Spring subscribers to the Nugget continue to come in. Ten were received from Friday until Monday, not including any renewals. They want to read the news and see what our merchants have to say.

The crowded condition of our columns this week prevent us from publishing the very lengthy article of Mr. W. J. Burt, but will do so next week, or that is so much of it as will set him right before the people in the Lackey and Edmonson matters.

John Holoway, who left Lumpkin county some time ago because the sheriff held a warrant against him for misdemeanor, is no more. His remains were brought back a few days ago from North Carolina and buried in the cemetery at Zion church in Union county.

A nice lot of colored and white lawns, blue and brown duck, brown linen, embroidery, lace and men's straw hats just received. As usual our prices are low. Come and see. We will treat you fair and honestly.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

One night last week as Barney Walker and Floyd Satterfield were passing Eli Hutson's house up in Yahoola district, one of them shot an old army gun at a stump. Mr. Hutson stepped to the door and fired his old reliable at the boys, cutting the twigs off all around them, which caused the lads to move off at a rapid rate.

Last Tuesday at noon while the clouds were coming from the east all of a sudden they changed and appeared from the northwest very rapidly. It turned almost as dark as night, while the wind blew and it lightened and thundered, presenting a very dangerous appearance for awhile, causing many of our citizens and more especially the students at the college to be come frightened as the building is on a high point. The storm soon passed over without any damages turning cold very fast, and during the night before it cleared off the cold wind, clouds delivered us a right nice lot of snow for spring use.

Next Sunday is Easter.

Old school books still exchanged at J. F. Moores.

W. B. Woodward and his new bride visited Gainesville this week.

We occasionally see a few peach blooms, but they are very scattering.

Col. Charters left Sunday and is now attending Towns Superior Court this week.

Fine line of garden seeds and onion sets at Halls, and all kinds of farming implements.

I. C. Head is going to build a culvert through his lot near the M. E. Church, move away the stable and otherwise improve the property which will make it one of the most desirable lots for a fine dwelling in Dahlonega.

Mrs. Strickland has just received her spring and summer millinery goods which are the prettiest and cheapest ever brought to this market. Exceptional care has been taken in the selection of these goods. See ad. on first page.

Every professional and business man in Dahlonega except two take the Nugget, besides more than a hundred other citizens within the incorporate limits—some taking two, sending one off to a friend. It is something remarkable for a paper not to have more enemies in a town where it is published.

It is said that a couple of white married women went out to Frank Lowery's, col., last Friday night was a week ago with their escorts, and sang and engaged in a coochee coochee dance against the wish of the occupant. We are told that the poor negro blushed and hung his head with shame and disgust.

A letter from a young lady of Dahlonega accepting a call from one of her admirers was picked up on the street the other day. The young man after receiving it opened his shirt and placed it on his left breast, thinking that a note like it would stick to the skin like a postage stamp on a letter, but it didn't and he lost it.

Do you want to buy ten or fifteen dollars worth of goods cheap for cash. If you do carry your money to J. F. Moore and you will get them at Gainesville prices with freight added, that is everything except Arbuckle coffee. This is being sold at cost by some of the merchants down there so as to catch trade, but they will make it up on something else.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle has been insulting some of the blockaders by cutting up another still last week, making four which he has destroyed within less than a week, which was probably the reason there was no liquor down at the district line grocery Sunday, which has been such a favorite resort for some who indulge in mean strong drink, to go and be merry until the headache begins its painful work.

That cage of rye liquor which was received and distributed out Saturday afternoon had the desired effect. It lasted until just after the setting of the sun on the following day when several of the indulgers met at the "Sons of Rest hall," beneath the mulberry tree at the court house as soon as the evening shades appeared and held a meeting, which ending by the breaking of the bottles and singing the old time fiddler's tune called Whisky All Gone.

By referring to another column you will see the attractive advertisement of E. S. Copeland, a gentleman who used to reside in Dahlonega and is well known to nearly every citizen in Lumpkin county. He has returned to make Dahlonega his permanent home and in doing so asks for a share of your patronage. Although having only been in business here little more than a month has, by his strict attention to his store and fair dealings, built up a trade that is seldom ever heard of in any town, and in order to increase his business has marked his goods at the lowest figures. Examine some of his prices that are given in his ad. and go and trade with him.

Big shoes, little shoes and cheap shoes and the finest line of dress shoes in town at Halls. Also all kinds of ribbons and laces.

One of our patrons in a note last Tuesday wound up by saying, "We note already satisfactory results of advertisement already in your paper."

Rev. Dunlap M. Edwards left for Atlanta first of the week to spend ten or twelve days with his wife and children.

John M. Brookshire has added much to the appearance of both his property and the street by tearing away the old stable near his store house.

The Nugget is still growing in strength and popularity, having averaged more than two new subscribers a day since our last issue, besides receiving several new ads.

Rev. W. A. Parks left Wednesday to attend the State Baptist Convention which convenes in Savannah to-day. Col. Price was expecting to go but did not feel well enough to make the trip.

The special committee appointed by the last grand jury to investigate the charges made by W. J. Burt against ex-ordinary Williams concerning money on insolvent tax is as yet unaccounted for, commenced its work yesterday.

Col. Price is giving the biggest portion of his time now to the public schools, endeavoring to get every one throughout the county interested more in educational matters, and we are glad to say that his work is not being in vain. The Colonel is a great friend to education and has done noble work since becoming a member of the board of education of Lumpkin county.

It is said that Harris Postell, who recently left Yahoola and went across the Blue Ridge, got to displaying his pistol the other day to some road hands and they punished him by forcing him to work the road for several hours. It is said that the pistol is one which was stolen from Bub Walker. He has probably sworn out a warrant for Postell who was quite likely met by an officer when he landed in Lumpkin county.

Tuesday was the last return day for April term of Lumpkin Superior Court and the following cases were filed in the clerk's office: Mary Stephens vs. Harve Stephens, libel for divorce. Pricilla Edmonson vs. Pierce Edmonson, libel for divorce. Mrs. Nancy Wimpy, Exutrix, vs. C. S. Healand, claim case. First National Bank of Gainesville vs. McDuffie R. Moore, et al., complaint for land, and J. K. Thompson, J. C. Herrington and R. A. Green vs. E. P. Kenimer, complaint for land.

The street tax in Dahlonega for the past five years has been three dollars. There has never been less than one hundred hands of road age in a single year during this period. Just think about more than $1,500 being spent on our streets in five years and there is no more improvement on them now than at the beginning. Enough money has been wasted on them to almost pay some of the principle ones with stone. The hands go to work at 7 o'clock, an hour later than is the custom of the country, and put in their time by picking and scratching about and at night after their days work is done it resembles where a lot of turkeys have been in search of acorns. It would pay the town for the council to give some man who understands road working one dollar per day to work and give instructions. The best way to keep up the roads and streets and make some improvements would be to let the contract out to the lowest bidder. Any one most would be glad to take the job and keep them in an improved condition by the year for $200. If there is no change made to improve the streets we would suggest that some water breaks be made across them so as to make them look more like country roads.

Trees are beginning to dress up in green.

Hicks' predictions for April will be found on the fourth page.

Charlie Walden was bound over yesterday, charged with illicit distilling.

Hon. F. M. Williams returned last Friday from a short visit to the Gate City.

Mr. "Bud" Sittion, of Dawsonville, spent a few days with his sister, Mrs. M. G. Boyd, in Dahlonega this week.

When you write anything for the Nugget be brief and to the point. Life is too short to read long articles.

It turns out that the parties who objected to the school being taught in Soule's Chapel were not official members of the church.

Our friend J. B. Clements recently purchased some real estate in Dahlonega, being a half interest in the store house occupied by W. H. Jones.

A letter will be found on the first page from one of the Lumpkin county soldier boys who is now in Cuba where fried eggs are worth ten cents a piece. Read it. It is interesting.

Frank Ash, residing near Porter Springs, has a twelve year-old daughter, an only child, that never went to school a day in her life, but reads and writes well. Her parents learned her at home.

While the road hands were clearing away the dirt Friday so as to put in a new flume on Clarkesville street Frank Meaders panned out several panfuls of the dirt, each one showing a good color of gold.

The first number of the Georgia Education, published semi-monthly in Atlanta by Miss S. Y. Jewett, has reached our table, which is brim full of interest to those engaged in educational work. Subscription price $1.00 per year.

New subscribers are coming in rapidly. We thought a while that we would offer our photograph as a premium to new subscribers but there is no use. They are already coming in as fast as we can print them until we get a steam press.

Postmaster Brittain has sent off a petition to the department, signed by many of our citizens, asking permission to move the post office from the Burnside House to the court house. Judge Tate fits it up at the expense of the county and charges four dollars per month.

By reading section 533 of the code road overseers will find that it is their duty to make and put sign boards up at all forks of the road. The law also requires them to measure off the roads beginning at the court house and put up mile posts. You will hear more on the subject when Judge Estes comes.

There is trouble ahead up in Cane Creek, caused by a recent so called cut off of that district and added to Yahoola district. The overseer will warn the hands in this cut off to work from the original line like they used to before this streak of land was marked off by three men. But the hands in it are going to refuse to work in Cane Creek, proposing to go the other way. This will get the matter into court and show whether the cut off is a legal one or not.

For some time Judge Tate has had an eye to building a vault in the court house for the safe keeping of the important records of both the clerk and the ordinary, provided that it meets the wishes of the people. We have not heard of a single person who knows its importance of opposing it but on the other hand heartily approve it. A prominent attorney said the other day that the vault could be built adjoining the sheriffs office. Then the sheriff could occupy the grand jury room and the clerk move down stairs to the one he vacates, making the records all safe and the clerks office more convenient to the officer and the people having business with it generally. Now let the next grand jury co-operate with the ordinary in this matter so as to have all the records safe from fire.

An infant of Mr. Henry Coffee died last Monday.

Onion sets and eastern potatoes at G. McGuire's.

City Marshal Blackwell has been housed up several days with roseola.

B. R. Meaders and his son Frank, left Monday for Atlanta in search of horses to buy.

Rev. R. M. Dowdy, of White county, was in town Monday, who swelled our subscription list one more.

J. N. Thompson, of Hoschton, Ga., was up on a visit this week to his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Head.

The charter for the Dahlonega Telephone Co. will be procured first day of court so as to enable work to proceed at once on the line.

T. S. Waters, who is now employed as a salesmen by one of Gainesville's most prosperous firms, was up Monday in the interest of his employers, looking both gay and happy.

Mrs. Mary Grizzle, who was sent from Lumpkin county some months ago to the asylum, has recovered so as to be allowed to return home. Her father, Timon Davis, went after her this week.

We understand that Mrs. Mike Sain, of Hightower district, who was adjudged a lunatic about a month ago has returned to her home, doing so well that she will probably not be sent off to the asylum.

J. T. Miller, of Auraria, was in Dahlonega last Monday for the first time in several months, making his trip interesting and beneficial to the printer. He subscribed for two copies of the Nugget, one for himself and the other for another person.

F. R. Adams, of Delaware, and W. G. Mickle, of Columbus, Ohio, two stockholders of the Dahlonega C. G. M. Co., spent several days in Dahlonega last week in company with W. B. Denman, of Cardington, Ohio, looking over the mines. They returned to their homes last Monday.

We understand that one day last week while Wash Walker, Sr., residing near Porter Springs, was taking a nap while under the influence of "mineral water" his house caught a fire and would have been destroyed had it not been for the appearance of some of his relatives.

There seems to be no fun in filling the marshal's place in Dahlonega. During Marshal Blackwell's sickness James Walker wore the badge for about a couple of days, when he got tired of this unpleasant position. Then George Jenkins was appointed until Mr. Blackwell gets so that he can attend to the official duties.

Henry Darnell, of Dawson county, who was caught at a still last week by the revenue authorities from Dahlonega, was bound over by Com. Baker. Preacher Parks and another citizen from his county signed his bond. The other fellow who was discovered near the still house made a leg bond, and will not likely appear in Atlanta soon unless he is run down and caught.

Last Sunday night Sheriff Davis and Andy Caldwell succeeded in catching James Edmonson who was wanted on a warrant sworn out by J. T. Miller, of Auraria, some weeks ago charging him with getting goods under false pretense. He had just returned from North Carolina and was arrested as he was sitting down to the table to take his first meal at home after his arrival. He was lodged in jail until Monday afternoon when Mr. Miller arrived and the case was settled, so the Justice tells us, in the same manner that the one against him was by Mr. Burt a short time ago. An entry being made on the docket to the effect that the prosecutor refused to proceed with the case and the cost—about $4.00—being settled by him (the prosecutor.)

The vernal equinoctial period, or the time when the changes of seasonal conditions are shifting from opposite sides of the equator, continues into the middle of April, hence the tendency to April showers through most of this month, even outside of the limits of the regular storm periods. Centering on the 3rd and 4th, look for rise of temperature, falling barometer and many showers with bluster and thunder. Change to high pressure, west winds and much cooler, with snow on northern sides, will wind up the perturbation. The moon being in perigee on the 5th will tend very much to intensify and prolong atmospheric disturbances. The storm diagram shows that a Vulcan storm period extends from the 7th to the 11th, inside of a Mercury period which is central on the 11th. Hence Earth and Mercury will combine, in addition to other causes of storms at this place. The moon passes over the celestial equator on the 7th and is new on the 10th, indicating that a very warm wave for the season will appear during this period. A general low barometer will also develop and many storms of rain and hail will cross the country from west to east. No one should be surprised if a snuck of late sleet and snow visits northern sections as a sequel to the commotions of this period. As a rule in such cases, the warm weather does not break down until the moon reaches or has passed its new. Now moon being on the 10th we predict that storm conditions will reach their maximum about Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, the 8th, 9th and 10th, and be followed promptly by sharp change to cooler on and about the 11th.

The Mercury and Earth braces reach forward so as to cover the next period, the 14th 16th, hence April showers are liable to strike any part of the country intermediate between the two regular periods. But the times of marked storm conditions, with general and heavy disturbances, will always fall within the limits of the storm periods. Hence about the 14th to 16th look for showery condition to deepen into heavier and more general storms, with much hail in many sections. Change to much cooler, with frosts northward, will follow in the wake of storms.

The Vulcan storm period, extending from the 18th to 22nd, will bring a decided change to warmer weather, with falling barometer generally. These conditions will culminate about Wednesday, the 19th to Friday 21st, in renewed and heavy storms of thunder, rain and hail. We name Friday, the 21st as the most probable date for such disturbances, from the fact that the Earth is on the equator on that date. Readers must keep in mind the fact that the opposition of Jupiter will intensify all disturbances during the last half of April. No one should be surprised or alarmed to feel the Earth shiver with seismic shocks, and all threatening storm clouds, during warm, muggy weather and low barometer should be carefully scanned, before they break in unlooked for fury. Another spell of very cool weather with frost northward will naturally follow after the storms of the period, lasting for several days.

The reactionary storm period centering on the 25th and 26th is exactly coincident with full moon on the day of Jupiter's opposition with Earth and Sun, both falling on the 25th. There is no doubt that these oppositions of the great planets are attended with such notable phenomena in so many quarters of the earth as to constitute a maximum of meteorological unrest and perturbation.

There are no reasons why April should not prove a very pleasant month generally for the pushing of all agricultural work. The month goes out as a storm period comes in, which will culminate in the first days of May.

"The Men Behind the Guns," The cool head and the steady hand, The foot that never runs, The eye that guides the five mile shot, The men behind the guns— Here's to them in the battle's rage, When shells fall hallooing feet And sun fall faster, And one of them is the last, Lord to the stars and stripes that glorify this host.

Here's to them as in withering heat, Stripped to the waist, they stand, Bering the monster with machines With sure and fearless hand! O'er their host are the heralds who best have served their land.

Here's to them when the victory's won, The foe's flag floats white, All honor to the officers, Who've led their men right, But honor to them whose work has won the fight!

The cool head and the steady hand, The foot that never runs, The eye that guides the five mile shot, The men behind the guns——Robert James in New York Sun.

My Hammock. An afternoon as ripe with heat As night the golden poplars shed, With maliceless life at my feet It dropped now from the apple tree, My hammock swings fast.

The boughs about me spread a shade That shields me from the sun, but weaves Rich beauty through the leaves Blue rifts of skies, to gleam and fade Upon the eyes that only see Just of themselves, all drowsily.

Above me drifts the fallen oak, Of mistle a strand, looped and blown, As fragile as a strand of rain, Across the air and upward thrown By breaths of hazy winds now blown— So glimmering it is and fine I doubt these drowsy eyes of mine.

Far off and faint, as voices pent In mines and heard from underground, Come murmurs as of discontent, And clannings of sullen sound The city of the air, as it goes, To vex me, though they do not bless Me in my drowsy fancies.

I have no fear, I only know, My hammock hides and holds me here In lands of shade and peace, And while I lie I breathe the life Light leaves of sunshine over me, And back and forth to and fro, A swing, invigorated in some hidden glen, Smiling at all things drowsily.
—James Whitcomb Riley.

Ugly Hands. The roughened hands that never stirred, The plain brown hands that planned and worked, Are folded now in peace and rest Upon the wayworn, weary breast.

O'er ivory keys they never strayed; Embroidery, like they never made; Four tired old hands, on one of them Flashed never brilliant, shining gem.

They cooked and washed, they scrubbed And mended, Unto the children fondly tended; They clothed the head that scorned and bent And gently laid the fevered feet.

They gladly tolled from noon till night That they might other hands keep white And tried to hard to keep spread A down the path for loved ones' tread.

African Limbless Cotton Seed Free. Anyone who sends one dollar for a year's subscription to the Atlanta Semi-Weekly Journal can get postpaid one pound of the celebrated African Limbless Cotton Seed without charge.

A pound of these seed will plant one-fifth of an acre, and with proper attention should yield enough plants to crop.

The seed were tested in a list of thirty varieties by the Georgia Experiment Station and a bulletin recently issued by Director Redding shows that the African Limbless Cotton produced 70 pounds more per acre than any other variety, and 161 pounds more per acre than the average of thirty leading varieties.

The African Limbless Cotton produced 780 pounds of lint per acre, which is nearly four times the average on the farms of the South. This shows what high fertilization and thorough culture will do with these excellent Seed. The value of the product, counting cotton at 5 cents and seed at 13 cents a bushel, was over $45 per acre. The cost of fertilizers used was $4.77 per acre.

The Journal does not guarantee results, but the result of the test at the Experiment Station makes it worth a farmer's while to test these seed when he can get them for nothing.

The Journal brings you the Stars of the World Twice a Week, with hundreds of articles of special interest about the farm, the household, juvenile topics, etc., and every Southern farmer should have the paper.

You don't have to wait a week for the news, but get it twice as often as you do in the weeklies, which charge the same price.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

Valuable Town Property Offered at Public Outcry.

By authority of an order from the court of Ordinary, of Lumpkin county, I will sell on the first Tuesday in April next all the real estate of

CHARLES A. RE-SER, deceased, as follows:
1. All the Store House and Dwelling on the North corner of the public square in Dahlonega, lately occupied as a Drug Store. The building is spacious and in addition to a store room it is sufficiently large for a Private or a Public Boarding House. It has a frontage of 50 feet on the public square and running back to Warwick Street, and includes the harness shop now occupied by Mr. John Housley.

2. A lot on Chestnut Street opposite "Hall's Villa," on which is located a cottage of two rooms, suitable for a well of fine water. The lot contains about one-half an acre and I, therefore one of the best gardens in Dahlonega.

3. A small lot near one-fourth of an acre in rear of the above named lot, being on Spring Street, suitable for a cottage or garden.

4. The "Stable Lot" containing one-fourth of an acre, known as Town Map as lot No. 20. On this lot is situated a large framed stable, formerly used in connection with the "Beecher House."

5. A vacant lot designated as lot No. 21 on "Town Map," containing one-fourth of an acre fronting Maple Street. It is well adapted for improvement as a residence lot, and quite near to the new Baptist Church.

6. Also, the undivided one third interest in lots Nos. 64, and 877, in the 12th district and first section of Lumpkin county, being 13-13 acres in each lot.

Said lots in the history of Dahlonega has the opportunity been presented of buying, at public sale, property of this character.

One-half cash, the balance within six months with interest from date at 8 per cent. Except in the case of the store house. As there is a mortgage on this property the entire purchase money will be required, unless other arrangements be made prior to day of sale. Purchasers can, if they so desire, pay cash, and take titles at once.

W. P. Pincer, Administrator of C. A. RE-SER, Estate.

LUMPKIN SHERIFF'S SALES. Georgia, Lumpkin County. Will be sold before the court house door in Dahlonega, Lumpkin county, Ga., on the first Tuesday in April, 1890, within the legal hours of sale, to the highest bidder for cash, the following property, to wit:

Lot of land No. 1000 in the 11th district and 1st section of Lumpkin county, Georgia. Also the undivided one-half of lot No. 2 in the 13th District and 1st section North half of said county. Levied on as the property of E. D. Irvine to satisfy a tax in 1889.

Also at the same time and place lot of land No. 24 in the 11th district and 1st section said county and state. Also lot of land No. 137 in the 15th district and 1st section of said county and state. Levied on the property of W. H. McAffee to satisfy a tax issued from the Justices court of the 38th District E. M., of said county in favor of M. G. Lewis, A. H. McAffee and W. H. McAffee, principals, and F. M. Williams and M. J. Williams indorsers. Levy made and returned to me by J. C. Williams, L. C.

Also at the same time and place lot of land No. 928 in the 12th district and 1st section of said county and state. Levied on as the property of the Haul gold mining company to satisfy a tax in 1889. Levy made and returned to me by J. C. Williams, L. C.

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER.

Georgia, Lumpkin County. To the Superior Court of said county:

The petition of H. J. Ingersoll, J. C. Stewart, J. P. Moore, H. D. Gurley, R. C. Moore and W. A. L. Williams, all of whom are residents of said county respectfully shows:

1. That they desire for themselves, their associates, successors and assigns to become incorporated under the name and style of "Dahlonega Telephone Company."
2. They desire to be incorporated for the term of twenty years with privilege of renewal at the end of that time.

3. The capital stock of said corporation is to be One Thousand Dollars, divided into one hundred shares of the par value of Ten Dollars each.
4. They desire the right to increase said capital stock by and with consent of the holders of a majority of said stock to any sum not exceeding Five Thousand Dollars.

5. Twenty per centum of said capital stock of One Thousand Dollars has already been paid in.
6. The object of said corporation shall be the building, equipping, maintaining and operating a telephone line or system from Dahlonega in said county to the city of Gainesville in Hall county, said state, also for the building, equipping, maintaining and operating such telephone line or system in said town of Dahlonega, and between said town of Dahlonega and any other point or place in said state to be determined by its Board of Directors.

7. Said corporation in so having and maintaining such telephone line or system desires the right to change such reasonable rates and tolls for the use of its lines or other part thereof as shall be fixed by its Board of Directors, keeping in view a pecuniary gain and profit for its stockholders.
8. Said corporation desires the right to have and have all such laws, regulations and by-laws as shall be beneficial in the conduct of its business and to exercise all such powers and privileges and all acts inconsistent with law, as shall pertain to the business of conducting and operating a telephone line or system.

9. The principal office and place of business of said company shall be in the town of Dahlonega, said State.
Wherefore petitioners pray to be made a body corporate under the name and style as aforesaid, and that said corporation be with the powers and usual powers and privileges as are incident to corporations created by the Superior Courts, and with such special powers and privileges as are hereinbefore set forth.

Petitioners' Attorneys, Georgia, Lumpkin County. To the Hon. the Clerk of the Superior Court in and for said county, certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original petition of the petitioners in the above entitled case, and that the said Dahlonega Telephone Company, now of file in my office. This March 21, 1890.
